

TARPEY MEN WIN IN FIGHT OVER WINE VICTORY DINNER

Banquet Will Be for Fresno Man, But Bell et al.
Are Invited

TO BE NON-PARTISAN

As Proof of Which Governor and Two Mayors Are Asked to Attend

(Special to the Republican.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—Politics caused the Home Industry League of California to wobble this morning when the Democratic interests that are seeking to elect M. P. Tarpey for governor captured the works of the banquet committee.

The question before the meeting was whether the gratitude of the wine industry of the state should be expressed in a banquet to all the men who worked in Washington against the Ohio take wine bill or by a banquet to Tarpey, as Democratic candidate for governor, said banquet to be attended by "600 prominent Democrats from all over the state."

Now here's the brilliant solution arrived at after much oratory and protests of non-partisanship:

All the gentlemen who assisted in Washington in defeating the take wine bill are invited to join in a banquet to Tarpey. After passing this in the form of a resolution said to be in the interests of harmony, the committee wobbled just once more by revealing that the governor of the state and the mayors of Oakland and San Francisco should be invited to speak at said banquet "to prove that it is entirely non-partisan."

"The league is absolutely non-partisan," says President Rutherford. "We have taken every precaution to prevent this banquet being turned into a political affair. The resolution that was adopted was chosen in the interest of harmony. Col. Pippy, who made the motion originally that the banquet be given to Tarpey, assured everybody
today that he was still a Republican, and that he had no thought of doing Democratic politics when he made the suggestion."

The Tarpey boosters, however, are congratulating themselves on having put one over on the "non-partisan" Home Industry League of California, and are having their wits to have the prominent Democrats from all over the state on the evening come for the banquet the wine men are supposed to be giving.

BASEBALL MIXED WITH CONGRESS MANEUVERS

Lack of Quorum Prevents Action in House On Deficiency Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Declaring the Democrats of the House had slumped woefully in their legislative battling average and in their interest in the administration game since they passed the currency bill up to the Senate. Minority Leader Mann today prevented the reference to conference of the urgent deficiency bill and turned the session of the House into an arena for world series baseball returns.

When the deficiency bill was reported out from the Senate, the Minority leader made a point of no quorum. A roll call of the House showed 162 present, 13 short of a quorum. Then the service at arms was instructed to send or absentees. This done, the House settled down for a long wait, as it was known there were few more members in the city. When, after three hours and six absentees had reported, the minority leader, rising "to make a parliamentary inquiry," asked:

"The hour of 2 o'clock having arrived, I wish to ask, if the chair has made arrangements for the House of the progress of the ball game in New York?"

"That is not a parliamentary inquiry," the chair replied, while everybody on the floor cheered.

Several vain attempts were made to adjourn. In the meantime the ball game had been in progress for several innings and some one sent the best returns to Mann, who announced the score.

Adjournment was taken at the sixth inning.

Administration leaders tonight were dispatching telegrams to absent members calling upon them to hasten to Washington by noon tomorrow and were exerting every possible effort to keep members now here from leaving until the deficiency bill can be disposed of.

YESTERDAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE
Hatch Hetchy water bill was up for final disposition.
Senator Hodge Smith gave notice he could press his bill for a federal system of agricultural extension work.
Adjourned at 3:06 p. m. to noon
Thursday.

HOUSE
Democratic leaders were confronted with the problem of holding a quorum during the consideration of the deficiency bill.
Adjourned at 3:30 p. m. to noon
Wednesday.

BULLETS FLY IN STRIKE BATTLE; MILITIA CALLED

Mine Guard Shot in Leg, Two Horses Killed and Houses
Riddled at Ludlow

LUDLOW, Colo., Oct. 7.—Beginning at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon a battle was waged between striking coal miners and mine guards at the Ludlow tent colony where, in which one guard was shot through the leg, two horses killed from under mine guards, and many houses riddled with bullets. No striker was injured.

The fight came to a halt two hours later, a few minutes before the arrival here of Sheriff Grisham at the head of five under-sheriffs and two members of the state militia deputized as sheriffs.

When the battle was at its height,
one of the mine officials telephoning to Trinidad, Sheriff Grisham swore in deputies and Captain Foreman of the Trinidad company, was instructed by Governor Adams to permit any of the militia to go, with the sheriff as deputies.

The strikers camp was peaceful when the sheriff arrived. National guardsmen are patrolling the colony
here tonight as deputy sheriffs.

LAFAYETTE, Colo., Oct. 7.—Buildings in the property of the Standard Mine here tonight were targets for three volleys of rifle bullets delivered by men who drove rapidly by the company camp in vehicles. Their fire was returned by mine guards, but so far as could be learned tonight no one was injured.

MALE SUFFRAGE

ALLOWED TO DIE

No Forcible Feeding for Man Who Went On Hunger Strike

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The provisions of the "Cat and Mouse Act," permitting prisoners to be released temporarily when suffering from the effects of hunger strikes, appear to apply only to the militant suffragettes, for a male prisoner who adopted their mode of obtaining freedom, was allowed to die today in Bedford jail. The prisoner, Albert Davis, sentenced to a term of imprisonment for theft, announced to the magistrate his intention of starting a "hunger strike." No attempt was made to feed him forcibly and he died this morning. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of "death from natural causes."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The administration currency bill, President Wilson's announced determination to write it into law before December 1, today became the storm center of legislative activity.

President Tom Clarke of the Senate Majority Leader Kern, Democratic Whip Lewis, Chairman Owen of the banking and currency committee, and Senator Olin James of Kentucky were called to the White House to discuss the situation. After the conference, it became apparent that the measures were to be taken to get the currency bill as a party measure. The White House took the attitude that the Democratic majority should not take like steps to demonstrate its responsibility for the legislation.

It was indicated that one method which might be pursued was to withdraw the bill from the consideration of the full committee where it is now under consideration and turn it over to the committee Democrats, as was done in the currency bill.

Minority Leader Kern said today that if it became apparent that the bill was being delayed, the Democrats, in order to assume their responsibility for the legislation, would call a caucus.
Senator Owen also took the position that the measure should be made a party matter. The day's developments showed no change in the attitude of Senators Reed and Hitchcock, the Democratic members of the committee, who have contended for full consideration and opportunity to amend the bill.

The committee today heard Charles N. Fowler, former member of the House and former chairman of the banking and currency committee. He stated the bill, declaring it would create a currency which was not
"adapted to the needs of the country," and if passed would result in commercial and financial ruin. He characterized the present Aldrich-Vreeland emergency currency law as an "indignity."

"That measure," he said, "was passed through Congress by former President Roosevelt, under the same damnable pretense that is being used by President Wilson to force this bill through Congress—pass the bill or plow in incompetency."

Mr. Fowler advocated the establishment of a system of pure bank notes and currency under which each individual bank would issue its own notes as currency as they were needed. He recommended the holding of a gold reserve of a billion and a quarter dollars by the government to enable the government to control the gold supply of the country.

GREAT CHARGE OF #### DYNAMITE TO BLOW

UP GAMBOA DIKE

PANAMA, Oct. 7.—Charges of dynamite were placed today in over 1000 holes, which had been drilled in the Gamboa dike, preparatory to its destruction. Each hole contained from eighty to one hundred pounds of dynamite, making in the aggregate the largest blast ever shot off.

The inflow of water from the lake through the discharge pipes is causing the Culebra cut to fill rapidly and it is estimated that there will be only five feet difference in the level of the lake and the Culebra cut on the morning of October 10, when the destruction of the dike is to occur.

Fourteen units of the Atlantic dredging fleet, including two ladder dredg-ers, are ready to go through the Culebra cut on October 9, for the purpose of removing the remainder of the Gamboa dike after the explosion.

Minors late on the Pacific side is rising rapidly and it is considered probable that in case of urgency a boat could be passed through the Culebra cut some time this month.

CONFESSES TO MURDER; SEEKS PROBATION

STOCKTON, Cal., Oct. 7.—Miles
Rumsey, who confessed to the Santa Fe Railroad, who confessed to murdering Louis Perez at Holt station recently in Judge Smith's court and who is now awaiting sentence, has asked for probation. He does not want to be sentenced and then take the usual steps to obtain his freedom.
Court officials say this is the first time in the history of the San Joaquin Valley that a self-confessed murderer has asked for probation.

CALIFORNIA ELECTORS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—Members of the California State Press association met tonight with officials of the Panama-Pacific Exposition company and discussed plans for holding an international press congress in San Francisco in 1917.

CURRENCY BILL

Senators Reed and Hitch-

GOVERNOR LISTER FRIGHTENS SEATTLE JUDGE

Hurries From Washington Capital But Finds Prisoners Already Released

ALL CASES DISMISSED

Cantankerous Jurist Is Told to Quiet Down, In Secret Session

SEATTLE, Oct. 7.—Governor Ernest Lister, who came to Seattle tonight in haste, after being urged by the editors of three Seattle papers, superior judges, attorneys and other citizens, to devise means to stop the flood in the county jail for contempt of superior Judge John E. Humphries court and restrain the judges' use of the writ of injunction, found his task greatly simplified when he arrived. As soon as Judge Humphries learned that Governor Lister had left Olympia for Seattle and had expressed a determination to pardon all contempt prisoners
if that was the easiest way to set them free, the judge issued an order directing the sheriff to release all the contempt prisoners, and the sheriff complied very gladly.

Governor Lister before leaving Olympia telegraphed to all the nine superior judges of King county, inviting them to meet him in conference at the chambers of Judge Ronald tonight to discuss the administration of justice in the county. All the judges, including Humphries, met with the governor tonight.
The conference was behind closed doors.

"No, I won't resign," Judge Humphries said. "They couldn't put me off the bench with a hook."

Governor Lister said the trouble had been "smothered out." From others it was learned that Governor Lister and the other judges had lectured Humphries severely, and he had promised to discontinue his monologues from the bench.

After the contempt prisoners had been released, they gathered on the court house steps, and were photographed in a group.

The injunction of Judge Humphries forbidding street speaking at Pike-Cathouse square was automatically violated tonight by Dr. Herman P.
Tilus, a free lance orator, who is under sentence to serve six months in jail and pay $500 fine for violating the injunction. Ole Hanson, Progressive candidate for United States senator and by Joseph J. Lister, representing the Socialist party of the state of Washington.

They spoke briefly, announcing meetings to be held on other corners nearby.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 7.—The Seattle Chamber of Commerce raised a thousand dollars today among its members for the relief of the Nome storm sufferers, besides contributions of lumber, that will be required for restoring the damaged buildings that are capable of repair. The business men of Seattle will send supplies that may be needed.

The membership, however, which was to have sailed for Nome tomorrow, will be held until it can be learned what articles are desired in Nome.

All money sent to the Seattle Chamber of Commerce will be forwarded to Nome.

It is assumed that the steamships Victoria, Navajo and Corwin and the revenue cutter Bear will bring down many of the destitute. It may be that the Senator will be the only boat to leave Nome this fall after the destruction of the four vessels now at Nome. Early closing of the Bering sea by ice from the Arctic ocean has threatened. Ice has been moving south from the Arctic ocean through Bering Strait for two weeks.

JOULET, Oct. 7.—Fifty negroes and as many white people almost caused a riot in the village of Rome, near here, this afternoon when the negroes attacked the wooden jail and liberated Lela Gibson, a negro, who had been arrested for drunkenness. In the fight one negro was killed and the little jail was demolished.

The jail was badly rebuilt and with the prison in it, was kept under a special guard.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Governor
William Sulzer recently attempted to negotiate a bargain with Charles F.
Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, to have his impeachment trial "called on."

So Allan A. Ryan, son of the New York financier and traction magnate,
testified at the trial today.

If Murphy was willing to get his
following to vote that the assembly
had no right to impeach him, the governor according to Ryan, "was willing to do whatever was right."

The testimony preceded the calling
by the defense of Louis A. Sarecky,
the governor's campaign secretary and other witnesses. Sarecky shore up
the bluffs for the omission of the governor's campaign statement, confessed
he had omitted the governor's signature to a letter to Albany, and admitted that he had been in Russia, and never returned, had been promised
from the position of the governor's stenographer to the head of the dependency bureau of the state hospital
commission.

SARECKY'S STORY
Sarecky, much heralded as the governor's star witness, told the story.
"I received letter from Tammany Hall in the secretary of State,"
he began, "a blank form in which
a statement was to be made out of receipts and expenditures of campaign funds."

"The question came up as to whether
the committee of the governor
of which was treasurer, had the right
to file a statement," he

STORM PASSES, LEAVING NOME WRECKED CITY

Appeal Is Sent Out for Aid to 500 Homeless On Bering Sea Shore

DAMAGE IS $1,000,000

List of Dead So Far Only Three—Two Miles
of Ruin

NOME, Alaska, Oct. 7.—George A.
Jones, mayor of Nome, has issued the following appeal, through the Associated Press:

"A tidal storm has destroyed one-half of Nome. The damage is estimated at one million dollars. Five hundred people are homeless, most of them destitute. Winter is approaching and public assistance is absolutely necessary. Funds should be sent to the city treasurer of Nome."

NOME, Alaska, Oct. 7.—The storm spent itself here, ceased to threaten the community and an unclouded sunshine dawned today on the hundreds of destitute and on the blocks of wrecked structures of the city of Nome. Though the waves are still high and the wind tonight is blowing 30 miles an hour, fears of further destruction from ice or storm are over-and the work of repair and helping the needy is under way. Three unidentified bodies have been washed ashore.

Between the sand spit on the ocean front and the Standard Oil plant, a distance of about two miles, not one structure remains on the south side of the street.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Governor
William Sulzer recently attempted to negotiate a bargain with Charles F.
Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, to
have his impeachment trial "called on."

So Allan A. Ryan, son of the New York financier and traction magnate,
testified at the trial today.

If Murphy was willing to get his
following to vote that the assembly
had no right to impeach him, the governor according to Ryan, "was willing
to do whatever was right."

The testimony preceded the calling
by the defense of Louis A. Sarecky,
the governor's campaign secretary and
other witnesses. Sarecky shore up
the bluffs for the omission of the governor's campaign statement, confessed
he had omitted the governor's signature to a letter to Albany, and admitted that he had been in Russia, and
never returned, had been promised
from the position of the governor's
stenographer to the head of the dependency bureau of the state hospital
commission.

SARECKY'S STORY
Sarecky, much heralded as the governor's star witness, told the story.
"I received letter from Tammany Hall in the secretary of State,"
he began, "a blank form in which
a statement was to be made out of
receipts and expenditures of campaign funds."

"The question came up as to whether
the committee of the governor
of which was treasurer, had the right
to file a statement," he

SOCIALISTS SPLIT S. F. VOTE; MAY DEFEAT HAGGERTY

Labor Federation Leaders Send to Bay For Help—May Put Up Gallagher

Caucus last night showed that the administration and the Socialists each control nearly 15,000 votes, and that the fight for the control of the California State Federation of Labor would be the warmest ever known in its history. Socialism pure and simple divided the vote of the Socialists at this convention. The probable candidates for each ticket were announced for the election Friday.

The big fight started when the delegates from San Francisco were called into caucus by the administration and told that if they did not follow the plate in the letter they were not wanted and that they had better clear out immediately, by Fred Scharenberg, the secretary.

Immediately delegates representing 3,500 votes walked out of the meeting. An immediate roll of those left showed that 15,000 votes were present.
They named their ticket with Daniel
P. Haggerty for the president, Scharenberg for secretary and Frank Flynn for A. F. of L. delegate.

At the caucus of the Socialists, Frank McFarland was chosen as candidate for president with Max H.
Greenhof of the butchers' for secretary and C. P. Grow of Los Angeles for A. F. of L. delegate. Greenhof was selected to run as secretary in place of Hugo Ernst of the Workers, who was first announced as the probable candidate, as it was figured the former had a far better chance of winning. It is conceded, however, by a number of members that Scharenberg will be re-elected. Over 7,000 votes were polled. Altogether they claim to have within their control almost 15,000 votes.

Andrew Gallagher, president of the Building Trades' Council of San Francisco, arrived late yesterday afternoon and immediately stepped into the field for the conservatives. In the meantime John P. McLoughlin, State Labor Commissioner, was wired for and he arrived late last night. Both men are considered strong aids for the administration.</

Many Resolutions Before State Labor Convention

most of the resolutions were in session in the hall, or out of the meeting as they were not wanted, several of them left.

Those who walked out said that they were not going to be whipped into line or made to follow any rule and that rather than be compelled to break their word of faith they immediately walked out.

Among those who did not remain during the caucus of the old guard and the number of the votes that they cast were: Zampf, 709; Ernst, 147; Mathewson, 840; Fred Leary, of the Laborers, 1000; and S. W. Sullivan of the Carpenters, 1006.

They will cast their lot with the Socialists, as will the "Reds," who also have control of several hundred votes. Their campaign will be managed by Solig Schuberg of the Newspaper Solicitors.

HOP-FIELD RIOTS
Resolutions were submitted and turned over to the committee on resolutions protesting against the "hop-field" riots, which were connected with the hop field riots recently at Wheatland, that if any people are arrested for murder, the Durst Brothers be declared accessories; that all local unions contribute to the defense of those workers charged and that the best legal talent be employed in their defense. It was presented by Solig Schuberg and may be passed upon today.

It is also expected that J. A. SPERRY DECLARED UNFAIR
The Sperry Flour Co. was declared yesterday on the unfair list of the California State Federation of Labor upon a resolution submitted by Vitaich of the Teamsters. The company refused to recognize the Cereal Mill and Warehousemen.

A motion was passed stating that all union men and their affiliations were to boycott all goods produced or handled by the Sperry people. This matter has been before the labor people for some time. They tried to negotiate with the officials of the company but declared that they could gain nothing by so doing.

SHOW FOUR LABELS
A resolution was submitted yesterday by May Cummings of the Garment Workers of San Francisco calling for the cancellation of the vote of any delegate present who did not have at least four union labels on his clothes.

This matter was warmly debated on all sides and finally it was stated that this measure was unconstitutional. It was turned over to the committee on constitution for investigation.

TYPOGRAPHICAL CONFERENCE
A committee of five members of the various Typographical unions of the state will present a set of resolutions at the convention today calling for the formation of an organization to be known as the California Typographical Conference, consisting of a membership of the printers affiliated with the International Typographical Union.

The purpose of the organization will be to better the conditions in the state of the various crafts affiliated with the order, combat legislation that is inimical to them and for the organizing of the printing offices and papers in the smaller towns and to see that only union men are employed in them.

Tentative plans call for the temporary organization of the conference at this convention and the permanent organization of the men at the annual session in 1914.

The president and vice-presidents are to be chosen from any one city more than San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland and must be members of the craft. One of the vice-presidents is to be from the northern part of the state and the other from the southern with the Teahachapi as the dividing line.

In order to carry on the work of organization, the delegates to the meeting yesterday agreed to a tax of 1 cent per month for expenses. There are about 3300 members in the state.

The committee in charge of the matter consists of Chairman G. A. Thomas of Sacramento, C. W. Herzinger of Richmond, Robert L. Teller of San Jose, H. N. Doty of Stockton and Ray Baker of this city.

TRAIL RIDE
The delegates to the convention, together with their wives and friends, were taken on a trolley ride about the city yesterday, so that they could see the improvement that has been made here since the last convention of the Federation held here in 1904.

They boarded a set of five special cars in front of the Southern Pacific depot about 2 o'clock and spent the next two hours in riding about the city.

GRAND BALL
In the evening the delegates, together with several townspeople, enjoyed a grand ball given by the local council in honor of the visitors in the Elmore hall.

Daniel P. Haggerty, president of the Los Angeles, Oct. 7.—Carrying a lantern in his unfeathered hands, Burr Laford Harris, the young negro, led a party of officers and newspaper men tonight to a verification of his confession that he murdered Mrs. Rebecca P. Gay, the Christian Science practitioner found dead in her consultation room in a downtown office building September 26. Through dense chaparral and desert brush covering a mesa southwest of the city, the negro guided the party to a spot in an old garbage dump and unearthed the bloody clothes which he wore on the day of the crime.

California State Federation of Labor, led the grand march. T. C. Vickers, president of the local labor council, was floor manager and master of ceremonies.

TODAY'S PROGRAM.
The program for today calls for the opening of the third day's session of the convention in this city at 9:30 o'clock this morning with only matters of routine importance, besides the reports of the various committees to whom resolutions have been submitted. The same program will be followed this afternoon.

A theater party will be given in the evening at the Princess theater. STOCKTON LEADS
It was generally conceded yesterday that Stockton was in the lead for the fight for the 1914 convention of the labor men. This matter was forgotten in the afternoon and evening session of the great interest taken in the coming election.

Delegate Thomas of the Typographical Union stated the reason for the absence of the label on the Sacramento banner the day previous was due to the forgetfulness of the sign painter, who was censured for this.

EXPLAINS 'UNFAIR' ADS.
As there were four advertisements of houses declared "unfair" by the Federation in the official program of the fourteenth annual convention of the organizations in this city, P. P. Lannan, secretary of the convention committee, stated that the contract with the printing firm called for the elimination of all such ads, and that the committee was not to blame as the printer had broken his contract.

This explanation of the matter was accepted.

SEVERAL OTHER RESOLUTIONS
Several other resolutions of more or less importance have been submitted by delegates to the convention and have been passed over to the various committees for inspection. Among these are the following:

That no candidate for the legislature be given the labor support unless favoring laws that will compel sanitary conditions in hotel and restaurant kitchens.

That all union men handling boxes see that they bear the label.

That all delegates are to see that union men wear only collars and cuffs bearing the label.

That the women's bill be introduced calling for better protection of life and limb at sea.

That the striking miners of Michigan be given their undivided support in a fight for economic liberty.

That the scale of wages for garment workers be raised from $2.50 to $3 for eight hours' work and that they be given the support of the Federation.

That a committee be appointed to draft a law to be known as the proposed engineering and elevator operators license and boiler and machinery inspection law.

NAMES ITS COMMITTEE

Another Conference Is Desired On Tulare Street Line Extension

Negotiations in regard to the extension of the street car line on Tulare street out as between the residents of Arlington Heights and the Traction company will be conducted by a committee comprising the following named: A. A. Koch, Russell Chier, A. E. Greenwald, M. G. Johnson and E. A. Sweet, the latter representing the Belmont district, upon them will devolve the charting of the most feasible and advantageous route for the proposed extension, also to secure from property owners three foot strips of land on both sides, if the railroad company insists on a double track extension as indicated by Paul Shoup on the comparatively narrow streets of the outlined route from Tulare street on First to McKnight, along the latter to 14th and along the latter to Belmont avenue. The committee met last evening to consider generally the situation, resolved to notify General Manager Webster of their appointment to facilitate inter communication and decided upon another meeting with the traction officials to learn definitely what concessions they expect to build the extension.

BACKACHE VANISHES

RHEUMATIC PAINS GO

Few Doses of Croxone Ease Stiff, Sore, Swollen Joints and Muscles, Relieving Backache and Bladder Disorders

If you suffer with backache—have pain in the neck or sides—nervous or dizzy spells—a few doses of Croxone will relieve the congestion and you will be surprised how quickly all kidney, bladder and rheumatic troubles will disappear.

Croxone promptly relieves these diseases because it really does reach the real cause. It soaks right into the walls and linings of the kidneys, cleans out the stopped-up inactive organs, neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid and makes the kidneys spit from the blood the waste and poisonous matter that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism. It soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder and gives the kidneys renewed strength so they can filter the blood and uric acid will. Croxone is different from all other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it without results. An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if it should fail in a single case. —Advertisement.

Men Welcome

Mother's Friend

A Duty that Every Man Owes to Those Who Perpetuate the Race.

It is just as important that men should now of progressive methods in advance of motherhood. The suffering incident to child-bearing can be easily avoided by having at hand a bottle of Mother's Friend.

This is a penetrating, external application that relieves all tension upon the muscles and enables them to expand without painful strain upon the ligaments. Thus there is avoided nervousness, the tendency to nausea or morning sickness is counteracted, and a bright, happy disposition is preserved that reflects wonderfully on the character and temperament of the little one soon to come. You can obtain a bottle of "Mother's Friend" at any drug store at $1.00. It preserves the mother's health, enables her to make a complete recovery, and thus with renewed strength she will eagerly devote herself to the care and attention which men so much to the welfare of the child. ## STRING WILL ATTACH

TO JUSTICE CLERK JOB

Whoever Accepts Appointment Has Law Suit On His Hands

The likely upset today on the application made by City Justice Graham to have a $1200 clerk appointed for his court will be that the supervisors will resolve to ratify Graham's appointment of a clerk, but will be, masterfully silent on the subject whether his pay shall, as the Justice's come out of county funds. In other words, whoever Justice Graham may appoint under the resolution of the board will accept the office with a lawsuit to determine whether he shall look to the city or to the county for his pay.

According to the oral opinion given yesterday by District Attorney McCormick on the application, Judge Graham may and can appoint a clerk and the supervisors may and can ratify his selection, but he would not advise recommending the appointment with salary paid by the county. Moreover, he would not attempt to reconcile the singular condition of affairs presented in the case under a law intended to apply to either, ruled by the county to apply to the city, because it is under a special charter with a police judge, while this city Justice under the unimpeachable law continues to act as a township official receiving his pay from the county and turning his times and forfeitures into the county treasury.

The rub in the case, however, as to the clerk is that under the same law he is paid out of the city treasury, his bond is approved by the mayor and he is provided for as a city official, but there is no apparent means of spreading the county's load over the city's shoulders with the Justice. He under the law is also regarded as a city official but has been placed in the exception class by the charter in providing for a police court to handle violations of city ordinances, making therefore the city Justice a superior officer as he would be drawing city pay for city services. The resolution offered on Monday for the appointment of a clerk will probably be passed today by the supervisors with the reference as to the source of the pay eliminated.

TRACES TYPHOID CASES

TO PRESENCE OF FLIES

County Health Officer Reports On Big Creek Epidemic—Under Control

County Health Officer Long in his report to the supervisors yesterday presents a strong bill of indictment against the housefly in reference to the recent typhoid fever epidemic at Big Creek, which he reports to be under complete control at the present time.

Dr. Long finds that the disease was brought to the camp by a party from San Francisco that left the disease in a mild form to be carried to others in the camp by flies. This is cited as proof of what flies may do if given free facilities are not available or vents screened.

"Let flies in and out and they are bound to carry disease from place to place and contaminate food," says the health officer.

Mention is made of complaints from Arizona Colonies regarding people hauling refuse and garbage in on Fresno City and burning it to the great annoyance of the neighbors. The city has a crematory at the city pound, and according to the health officer all the rubbish should be hauled there and burned.

The slaughter house on Church avenue west of town is reported as causing trouble again from bad odors, being offensive to travelers on the county roads and near neighbors.

Four cases of scarlet fever were reported near Sanger and Del Rio. Other parts of the county reported no contagious diseases.

The old Chinese cemetery is referred to as a nuisance that should be removed from the thickly settled community in North Fresno.

PARLIER COMPLETES

ITS WATER SYSTEM

Townpeople Will Publicly

Celebrate Event On

October 18

Parlier as an unincorporated town has installed a water distributing system and on Saturday, October 18, will have festivities in celebration of the completion of the work.

Included in the day's sports will be horse and automobile races. Luther M. Say as president and E. M. Parlier as secretary of the Parlier Chamber of Commerce obtained permission of the supervisors yesterday for the use of the county road. It is proposed to have the half mile street in front of the school house closed all day for the races. The privileges was granted on the condition that the Parlier people assume all risk.

The new water system connects the town by pipe line with the Parlier Growers' winery, distant 12 miles, a pumping plant has been installed with steel tank tower with capacity and pressure sufficient for even fire purposes in the town. The streets have been piped and all is in readiness to make house connections. R. K. Minton, who was at one time president of the California Raisin Growers' association, was one of the principal promoters of the water system.

Parlier is the only unincorporated town in the county provided with water service, and fire fighting apparatus.

STUCK WINES—HOW TO CURE THEM;

BEST NOT TO HAVE THEM, SAYS EXPERT

By F. T. BIOLETTI

If you ask an expert for the best cure for "stuck" wines, he will probably say "not to have them." With a fairly well arranged winery and a skillful use of sulfuric acid, pure yeast and cooling devices, there should be no stuck wines. It is all very easy to get.

But some wineries are not well arranged and there is usually a lack of cooling facilities. In such cases, if the weather is unusually hot, the must contain substances which weaken the fermentation power of the yeast. These substances may be produced by molds on the grapes, by wild yeasts at the beginning of fermentation or by the defect, to get rid of the sugar bacteria towards the end. These molds are usually of the "Brettanomyces" type, and are called "Brettanomyces".

A stuck wine is one in which the fermentation has progressed to a certain point and then stopped before the wine has become dry, leaving a remnant of unfermented sugar varying from one per cent or two per cent to five per cent or six per cent.

showing 25 deg. Balling would yield a wine of over fifteen per cent of alcohol if all the sugar fermented. It is only under the most favorable conditions that yeast will produce the amount. If the must exceeds 25 deg. Balling, the fermentation cannot be complete. Second: Too high a temperature. Above 55 deg. F., the yeast is weakened somewhat, above 100 deg. F., seriously. Third: By keeping the temperature below 30 deg. F., can be quickly get rid of the higher percentages of sugar. Third: The must may contain substances which weaken the fermentation power of the yeast. These substances may be produced by molds on the grapes, by wild yeasts at the beginning of fermentation or by the defect, to get rid of the sugar bacteria towards the end. These molds are usually of the "Brettanomyces" type, and are called "Brettanomyces".

The practice of pumping stuck wine on to fresh grapes is a bad one. The stuck wine is usually completely debilitated and useless yeast and the volatile acids in this stuck wine prevent the multiplication of new yeast in the fresh grapes. The stuck wine and the fresh grapes should not be mixed until the latter has produced a large quantity of fresh vigorous yeast. This is facilitated by frequent aeration of the fermenting must both before and after adding the stuck wine.

NOT CONCILIATION

There is a decided misnomer in the name given by Senator Cummins to his so-called "Conciliation Committee of Republicans and Progressives." The misnomer arises from the fact that the so-called conciliation committee contains no Progressives, that no Progressives were invited to attend it, and that the plan of "conciliation" totally ignores the existence of the Progressive party. It is a conciliation committee of Republicans with Republicans to find some means of inducing Republicans to vote the Republican ticket. In other words, it is a committee, not for conciliation between two parties, but for reform of one party. Its purpose is not to unite the Republican and the Progressive parties, but to induce as many persons as possible to vote the Republican ticket. The Progressive party will, of course, also undertake to induce as many persons as possible to vote the Progressive ticket. It is a commendable policy for both parties, but it does not constitute conciliation, and is not intended to do so.

However, while the committee is misnamed, it is engaged in a good work. Its very existence constitutes an acknowledgment, and an announcement, that the Republican party is now organized is not an honest body. The sole policy of this alleged conciliation committee is to repudiate the methods by which the present Republican organization stole the nomination last year from the Republican voters, and to guarantee in future that the confessed thieves now in possession shall have their hands tied to restrain them from further stealing. These were precisely the charges made by the Progressives last year. Now they are confessed, and it is proposed to call a Republican convention to plead guilty to them and to oust from power those who committed them. It is a reform well worth making, whether it gains any votes or not.

But Senator Cummins is badly mistaken if he thinks that the Republican and Progressive parties can be united by an agreement which the Republican party makes with itself, and to which the Progressive party is not a party. The time to save the name of the Republican party by the simple expedient of common honesty was last year when the organization was in possession of the Republican party. It refused to save it in that way. Confronted with the plain choice of honesty or party suicide, these leaders deliberately chose suicide as to them a less intolerable evil. Now they think that they can resurrect the corpse by administering to it the medicine which might have saved it while it was yet alive. They simply do not understand that in the interval a new party has arisen, devoted to twentieth century service and twentieth century issues. There was nothing left of the Republican party but its name, and the men with whom Senator Cummins is now trying to conciliate himself destroyed all the value that was left in that name.

The Republican party could not be revitalized now except by making it Progressive, and if it became Progressive the men now in control of it would leave it and either form a new party of their own, or join the Democratic party. Cummins and Penrose may be able to compromise their own irreconcilable divergent views for the sake of an empty name, but they cannot deliver to that compromise the main body of the people who share these views. If, for instance, a proposal were really made to the Progressive party to join in the Republican convention intended to be called next spring, and the Progressive party were to accept that invitation, the convention would be composed of two factions, each determined to win or not. The Progressives would enter the convention with the announced purpose either of carrying the convention and kicking the reactionaries out of the party, or else, failing in that, to leave the convention and go straight back into the Progressive party whence they came. The reactionaries would be equally irreconcilable of purpose, though less frank in the expression of it. The two parties would remain as separate as they are now. The only question would be which of them would succeed in seizing the Republican name.

That name was worth fighting over once. It is not worth it now, and if it were worth it the thing to which it would be attached would not be the historic Republican party, which has now ceased to exist, but either the Progressive or the Conservative party, according to which element was successful in seizing the name. Whenever party the Republican party becomes, it is worth while, of course, to make it honest, and Senator Cummins' efforts are to that extent to be commended. But you cannot get two irreconcilable different elements together simply by making one of them honest. The Democratic party is honest already, but no Republican regards that as a sufficient reason for joining it. Neither will the Progressives regard the mere restoration of common honesty to the Republican party as a sufficient ground to abandon the Progressive party. That party has a task to perform in the nation, of which common honesty is only one of the elements.

LABOR CONVENTION

The meeting of the annual convention of the California State Federation of Labor in Fresno this week gives an opportunity again to notice the dignity that labor has attained by organization. This has not come alone through the added consciousness of power, although this has had its good and bad effects. It has been, rather, that labor, divided as a force in the body politic, was formerly an trifling as the waves of the sea, either for good or evil. With organization, it has attained the force of the tides, adding together the energy of all the waves in one motion for the good of all. What wonder if, with the upbuilding of such a great power, and such a self-conscious force, there should arise occasions when its power may be used for evil as well as for good.

Labor in organization is, however, as much all human forces, justify itself in the long run for existence by doing good. Some men have grown sentimentally foolish in raving over the poetry of labor. Till as such is a burden, laid upon men by the fact of their existence. It is in the efficient performance of the thing that comes to hand to do, whether it is manual or mental labor, blacksmithing or cooking of running a business, wherein the dignity of labor comes. It is both in the work and in the accomplished results that merit lies.

Much of the so-called dignity of the professions or the mercantile vocations comes not from either the good that is done to humanity, but to the stored up power that they confer upon their followers. What wonder, then, if power has similarly conferred a false pride upon the union labor movement. But the thoughtful union man, like the intelligent banker or the skilled engineer, knows that his place in life has been justified not by power but by increasing the happiness of humanity, attainable through the elevation of enforced toil into inspiring and ennobling effort.

We are glad, then, to welcome the men who in their several lines of achievement have received the commendation of their fellows to standardize their trades. Not only have men as such a place in society, but similarly have those occupations by which men obtain a living. A man is a man for a thing, but in the course of time he finds that his manhood is very dependent upon his being a baker or a candlestick maker, and the business of baking or making candles, as such, must be represented by organization. It happens now, that skilled labor requires special organization as such, in federation. May it always retain as high ideals in this organization as that expressed in the printer's motto: "We desire to excel in the work of our craft."

Two dance hall girls out of a job since the closing of the Barbary Coast committed suicide in San Francisco yesterday. Doubtless the incident will be used to show the folly and the cruelty of closing the Coast. Of course it in fact shows nothing of the sort. Suicide or worse is the common fate of these girls. And it usually comes, not because they are out of employment, but as an incident to their employment. Any of these girls who desired to be decent had a decent job waiting for her for the asking; any who desired not to be decent had indecent opportunities still open without limit in San Francisco. The suicides at this particular time happened to coincide with a situation which will attract attention. The regular suicides which the underworld furnishes of the corner every week, and almost every day are the really significant ones, and their problem is not the problem of unemployment and their lesson is not the lesson that the vices which drives them to their death should be allowed to continue unrestricted.

MILITANT JAP DEMANDS NEW TREATY AT ONCE

Japan grows more aggressive and insistent on the subject of full recognition of her citizens' rights on the basis of equality with the Caucasian race until she goes so far, in her latest note to the State Department, as to seek a new treaty guaranteeing the abridged privileges of the little brown man in each and every state in the Union. Our new Japanese representative, surprise that Tokyo should dare in with a new proposition before her last note and disrespectful, had been tearfully answered, as becomes diplomatic procedure.

It looks as if Japan, anticipating what the State Department would have to say in reply to her court refusal to go to court for the reason that she has no confidence in our courts and doubt the good faith of our government in negotiating treaties, is determined to bring the controversy to a climax with all expedition. The State Department hardly takes pains to obscure the fact that it is fighting for delay, but for what reason the department should avoid the issue is not clear.

The Asiatic is now of the settled opinion that his race is the most abject of the western peoples, and he looks on the unsympathetic attitude of the American as a direct challenge to his pretensions. The exact temper of the note dispatched to Washington within the last day or two is not precisely known in diplomatic circles here, according to guarded official intimations, and the nature of the department's response, therefore, has not been fixed upon. But one thing seems positive. The manna policy is not to be perpetuated to postpone the day of reckoning.

Fresh from her success in flouting China for injury inflicted on her citizens at Nanking and under pledge to the Tokyo note to exact certain compensations in the California case, and require the United States to enter into an unequal agreement not to again, the militant Jap is manifestly belated with wrath and impetuosity that will not brook further procrastination. —Washington Post.

The WORLD'S MYSTERIESTHE THREE HUNDRED
AT THERMOPYLAE

Tennyson has sung, and worthily, the "Noble Six Hundred" at Balaklava into fame, and efforts have been made by poets and historians to credit the valiant defense as they put it, of the three hundred Greeks of the pass of Thermopylae against a Persian army, as an achievement to be compared with the greatest in the annals of war.

It would appear, however, by a close scrutiny of history, that the pass was defended not by 300 but by at least 7,000 Greeks, according to some writers, 12,000. The 300 were the Spartan contingent, who showed no more bravery on that occasion than their contemporaries in any other Greek states, although they were assigned the glory by the historians of their city.

Thermopylae is a celebrated pass leading from Thessaly into Locris. It lay between Mount Oeta, and an inaccessible morass, forming the edge of the Malis Gulf. At one end of the pass, close to Anthela, the mountain approaches so close to the morass as to leave room for only a single carriage between the narrow entrance forms the western gate of Thermopylae.

About a mile to the east the mountain again approaches close to the sea, near the Lorician town of Alpeni, thus forming the eastern gate of Thermopylae. The space between these two gates was wide and more open, and was distinguished by its abundant flow of hot springs, which were sacred to Heracles; hence the name of the place.

Thermopylae was the only pass by which an enemy could penetrate from northern into southern Greece; whence its great importance in Greek history. The spot is thus described by Herodotus: "As for the entrance into Greece by Trachis, it is, at its narrowest point, about fifty feet wide. This, however, is not the place where the passage is most contracted; for it is still narrower a little above and a little below Thermopylae."

It is true, and with Leonidas, at their head, for he had command of the entire army. This force was sent in advance of that the sight of them might encourage the allies to fight, and hinder them from going over to the Medes, as it was likely they might have done had they seen Sparta backward.

The Spartans would no doubt have been able to keep the Persians back by holding this pass, had not Mails turned traitor and conveyed to Xerxes the information regarding a pathway across the mountains by which he might steal into the rear of the post held by the Greeks. A thousand Phocians had been stationed on the mountain to guard this path, but they took flight when the Persians came upon them in a blow.

When Leonidas learned that the way across the mountain was open to the enemy, he knew that the defense of the pass was hopeless, and he ordered his allies to retreat while there was yet time. But he and his Spartans remained, thinking it "unseemly" to quit the post they had been especially sent to guard. The Thebans remained with them and the Thebans — known partisans at heart of the Persians — were forced to starve. The latter deserted when the enemy approached, but the Spartans and the Thebans fought and perished to the last man.

The three hundred Spartans — to both belong equally the credit for their bravery and their devotion to duty, but it would seem unfair to credit alone the Spartan three hundred with all the glory of Thermopylae.

THREE DROWNED IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 7.—Lester Passy, 21 years old, and A. Hawkins were drowned in Canim lake, Lillooet, yesterday. The two young men attempted to cross the lake in a light canoe during a storm and were upset. George T. James, a stage driver, was drowned from a canoe in Robtall Lake, last Monday. James, with a companion, was paddling on the lake when the canoe was upset, throwing the men into the water. After a desperate struggle in the icy waters they clung on top of the canoe. After some hours James decided to swim ashore. After about five minutes he suddenly sank.

PRINTERS' INK PAYS

SOCIETY

To the students of the Maurice Maeterlinck's dramatized version of the story of Mary Magdalene, will be of special interest the coming production on Friday evening at the Barton, when Mrs. Scott, a new lumina in the theatrical firmament, appears in the title role. That Mrs. Scott entered into the character with the greatest enthusiasm for its initial production (which was given in her home city, San Francisco, for charity, only a few weeks ago, and then afterwards decided to "let into the game professionally," adds largely to the interest.

Absolutely no expense has been spared in making the stage settings and appointments gorgeously rich to the story. Professor M. C. Papp, head of the Senate Department of the University of California, is the authority for the major part of the settings of the first and second acts and the third has been patterned after the famous painting of Leonardo da Vinci, "The Last Supper."

Mrs. Scott's interpretation of Mary Magdalene is entirely her own, and she gives the character a Cleopatra-like nature. To accentuate the nature of the heroine as she interprets it, Mrs. Scott wears a magnificent costume in one scene, called the "peacock gown." In its make-up are combined 6000 matched peacock feathers that are each separately jeweled with rhinestones, garnets, opals and turquoise. The feathers were imported from China and jeweled in America. The magnificence of the stage setting in the scene in which she wears this gown is enriched by one of the handsomest collections of tiger skins ever gotten together.

In stage effects, most wonderful is the accomplishment of a lumina who, which hovers over the Magdalene's head in the last act, when more by suggestion than by word is expressed the reclamation of her soul.

The members of the Fresno high school faculty of the previous season's regime, entertained very delightfully yesterday afternoon in compliment to the recently acquired members, Miss Alice Smith being the hostess proper at the home of her mother, Mrs. I. A. Meakin on M street. An informal reception was the feature of the entertainment and during the hours of 4 and 5 the merry "got-acquainted" party progressed. Among those who greeted the guests upon their arrival were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Liddick, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Novell, Mrs. Agnes Hart, and in the dining room, tempting dainties were dispensed by Misses Sarah Ashley, Helen Crandall, Jeanette Minard, Pearl Small and Annie Durkee.

The list of complimented guests included Misses Elizabeth Craig, Lillian Dahlstrom, Marie Brundin, Ruth Peterson, Turpin, Messrs. H. R. Hunt, William A. Austin, Bradley, Henry Kerr, Messrs. and Mesdames S. J. Redman, T. R. Pendell, S. S. Judd, E. R. Schaefer, C. W. Peck, Earl Townner.

Mrs. C. L. Mason and Mrs. George Osborne arrived from San Francisco yesterday and are stopping on their way east of town for a few weeks before going south for the winter.

St. James Guild of the Episcopal Pro-Cathedral will entertain the Normal students this evening at an informal reception to be held at the rectory. The girls of the St. Agnes Guild will assist in the entertainment, and an informal musical program has been arranged for the entertainment. Among the numbers will be vocal selections by Miss Mona Robertson, Miss Ada Kump, Miss Minnie Marshall and J. O. Greenwell. Miss Paul Carpenter will act as accompanist.

Dr. Donald Webster of San Francisco was a week-end visitor in town accompanying his mother, Mrs. J. A. Webster, upon her return from an extended summer sojourn at the Webster summer home at Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Mrs. Florence Reed will be the hostess at the meeting of the Wednesday Afternoon Club, which convenes today for the first time since the summer holidays.

The active and associate members of the Wednesday club will be entertained this afternoon at the celebration of President's Day, at which Mrs.

H. W. Neely will be the hostess, at her home on T street.

The members of the Lambda Theta Phi Sorority will be entertained on Saturday afternoon by Miss Julia Harris at her home on Blackstone avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sargent are leaving Fresno about the middle of the month for San Francisco, where they are to make their home. During their year's residence in Fresno, Mr. and Mrs. Sargent have become popular members of the summer social set who will greatly regret their departure.

Mrs. H. P. Shepherd, who has been enjoying a lengthy sojourn in San Francisco this summer, will not return to Fresno until about the middle of the month, when she will again resume her accustomed niche in the social life of Fresno.

Division No. 10 of the First Baptist church will meet with Mrs. Walter Ford, at her home 2809 on Iowa avenue, this afternoon at half past 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert O. Warner (Blanche Schaeffer) are expected to return today from a month's honeymoon trip that included a motor trip to Lake Tahoe, and a steamship trip from San Francisco to San Diego upon their return they will take possession of their home on M street.

The Sunday school of the First Baptist church will give a social on Thursday night in the church parlors for which entertainment, an interesting program of diversified numbers is in the course of preparation.

The Choral of the Parlor Lecture Club will meet this morning at the home of Mrs. Don Purdee Riggs, the choral leader, on L street, for the initial meeting of the season.

Mrs. T. W. Patterson will return today from San Francisco, where she has been sojourning for a few days.

The Busy Hour Circle of the First Christian church will meet this afternoon with Mrs. H. O. Bonine, at her home on Ashley street.

The Fresno Relief Society held its first meeting of the season yesterday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. W. W. Craycroft presiding. The accumulation of over summer business was dispensed with and new cases and other routine business presented. Miss Ruby Granger the new Y. W. C. A. secretary, addressed the assembly, telling of the activities in the Y. W. C. A. branch house in the packing house district.

Mrs. H. C. Warner has as her house guests, her cousins, Mrs. James Campbell and son George Campbell, of San Francisco, who are enroute from their home on a motor trip to Southern California.

Dr. Roland Tupper of San Francisco was a week-end visitor in Fresno as the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Tupper.

The Oleander Study Club will celebrate "President's Day" on Thursday, at the home of Mrs. W. F. Bloom. The members will assemble at 12:30 and enjoy luncheon together while they exchange vacation experiences.

The Ladies of the First Congregational church are to serve a chicken dinner on Thursday evening in the church parlors at half past 6.

Mrs. S. B. Billings, assisted by Mrs. M. R. Pitts, entertained the Philanthropic class of the First Baptist church yesterday, at the home of Mrs. Billings. A business session absorbed the early part of the meeting, and the plans were made for the winter missionary work. On the afternoon of Wednesday, October 23, the class is anticipating a lecture which will be given by Miss Clark, a native missionary of India, who will be in Fresno then. All women are to be included in the invitation.

The marriage of Miss Nellie Lown and R. E. Brewster was celebrated yesterday afternoon at the Cowan residence on Belmont avenue. Rev. Harold Govette officiating in the

RECENT FICTION AT PUBLIC LIBRARY PROVING POPULAR

"Heart of the Desert" is a recently received book at the Fresno public library by an author but little known here, Honore Wilbee, which has gained many readers for its interest and attention-arresting power. Of this work a reviewer has to say:

"In the beautiful, mysterious desert of Arizona wonder a delicate girl and a masterful Indian who has kidnapped her. The fantastic splendor and weird spell of the solitude suffuse the reader's senses as the Indian flees with her, pursued by a posse organized by her white lover. Although the Indian—a universal man and a companion of the girl's friends—treats her captives with utmost respect, she hates him bitterly. Yet at the same time she breathes deeply the spell of the desert."

"The silent Indian, watching, guarding, retreating, always utterly masterful and always full of suppressed tenderness for her, the great silent spaces, scorched by day and chilled by night with deep skies full of soft, brilliant stars; the constant air and exercise; these things work strange intrusions in her. She becomes strong and robust, she seems almost to imbibe something of the primitive quiet about her."

"The story itself develops into swift dramatic crises which hold the reader spellbound; but the strong lasting impression of the novel is the healing power of the vast open reaches and the primitive life."

The author of "If I Were King," Justin Huntly McCarthy, a book which was among the best sellers of a day past, contributes one of the newer novels in the late library shipment entitled, "Calling the Tune."

Woolley's "The Gunpowder" is a journal of the "newspaper game," told by a former reporter. The excitement of the professional news gathering in New York is said to be excellently delineated by Mr. Woolley. In the story, Dick Lockwood is given a chance as a cub on a big New York daily, is on the point of being discharged for a poor showing, when by a great effort he makes good on a difficult assignment and little by little wins his spurs. There are many stirring incidents, such as a big political "scam," a strike riot, a theater fire and other parts of the daily romance of a reporter's life.

Blackwood's "A Prisoner in Fairyland," has charming a story as any Mr. Blackwood has ever written, as rich in beauty of imagery and as significant in its symbolism. It is but another justification of his right to the title which has more than once been applied to him, "an artistic realist of the unseen world." It is also now on the library shelves.

The Boston Transcript thus characterizes the author of this book: "Mr. Blackwood proved himself a poet with visions, a prophet with a declaration, a magician evoking through description the stupendous mystery and meaning of nature, and by delicate implications weaving out a man's dreams and desires and acts the truth in human nature."

Musical Club Starts Membership Campaign

Mrs. Frances Alda, prima donna soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, who is to be one of the star attractions of the Musical Club season.

A most vigorous membership campaign is being waged by the members of the Fresno Musical Club who are predicting the most successful year in the history of the club for the coming season. And much encouragement is being lent in the responses which are being made to the requests for new members. This morning the sale of season's tickets will commence, and for the benefit of those who have not been approached personally by a club member, Miss Zoe Glasgow and Miss Julia Harris will be found at Horner's drug store, Main and J streets, after half past nine, with a supply of the coveted card boards.

Among the early star events in the course of concerts will be the appearance of Madame Frances Alda, the prima donna soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Madame Frances Alda, who has been in Europe since last May, studying new roles and planning programs for her concerts, arrived in New York on the Kronprinz Wilhelm on Sept. 23. She was one of the first singers of the Metropolitan Opera Company to return to this country to begin a concert tour prior to the opening of the opera season.

Some idea of the high artistic attitude toward art may be deduced from the artists engaged to assist at her concerts. Frank La Forge, the American composer-pianist, who made several transcontinental tours with Mme. Neubach, will be the accompanist. La Forge is second to none as a pianist for singers; he plays all the accompaniments from memory, and serves in other ways to greatly help the singer in her deliveries. Greta Culini, a young and gifted Russian "cellist," is the other artist of the Alda concert aggregation.

When Alda reaches the Pacific coast the public will hear something about the artist and songs she will sing on her concert tour, which extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

BIDS OPENED FOR SAND CREEK ROAD

R. F. Ball Is Lowest for Fresno End On Tender of $9499

The supervisors will make award this afternoon of the contract for the building of the Fresno county end of the continuation of the Sand Creek mountain road. Bids were opened yesterday on the amended specifications and the bids for bids. The bidders were the following:

R. F. Ball $9,499 J. E. Mitchell $9,450 C. M. Baker, Dunlap $9,300 Byron O. Lovelace, Vanila $9,285 M. E. Griffes $9,200

The three lowest of these bids are well within the estimate and considerably under previous bids which were rejected because considered too high.

The tender of Lovelace, who is county surveyor of Tulare, is considered out of the reckoning because not accompanied by a certified check. Builder Griffes has the contract for the Tulare end of the road extension and was disappointed that he is so much underbid, because had been awarded the contract he would have commenced work at the Fresno end to facilitate the hauling in of supplies during the winter and spring seasons for the Tulare end of the work, which territory is not always accessible.

It is hoped to have the extension to General Grant National Park completed by July, so as to be available for tourist travel.

"THE TRAFFIC" WHITE SLAVE PLAY, COMING

Scene from "The Traffic"—Barton next Saturday and Sunday evenings.

The play of "Mary Magdalene," which will be seen at the Burton next Friday evening, October 10, is not thoroughly understood in advance for the simple reason that the average person thinks its religious flavor is its sole theme. Although it is based upon the well-known Biblical story which teaches a lesson of mercy and forgiveness, this drama created by the brilliant brain of Maurice Maeterlinck appeals as powerfully to the agnostic as it does to the zealot.

Mary of Magdala is revealed in a new light in this play, and especially with Mrs. Scott in the title role. The Biblical story deals with her as a penitent sinner worshipping at the feet of the Master. No adequate idea is given of the life surrounding the courtesan of that time. Maeterlinck has constructed his story around the Magdalene and gives us comprehensive knowledge of the woman herself dwelling in the midst of her shameful life, surrounded by the splendor and luxury of that period and breathing the polluted atmosphere of the city. The play, in his gripping climax, when the light of a new understanding begins to shine in her mind the transformation of her entire being is comprehended by the audience. It had been said that no fault can be found with the play itself, and no criticism can be directed against the lines. The character of Christ never appears on the stage, and where it is necessary for His presence to be revealed it is only His voice that is heard speaking to the people. It is His voice that awakens the Magdalene, and while in this scene there is an atmosphere of the Divine, it is "Mary Magdalene," the courtesan, who is before the audience and it is upon her strange and wonderful transformation that interest is centered.

The lesson is really twofold, and it is for those who are the most capable to obtain the best out of these lessons. At all events the play is one that stands in a class all by itself, and all who see it go away conscious that they have gained in knowledge from the fact that they were present. The seat sale is now open.

"The Traffic"

During the last two months there has been produced in Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles, a dramatic story of prostitution as it is in every city today, such as has never been played before. A stock company of good actors played it at the different theaters, and it attracted everybody who saw it. There was talk of suppressing it, and yet the newspapers failed to "bawl it out." The attendance grew night by night, and during the last few nights of the Seattle engagement and the closing weeks of the San Francisco and Los Angeles runs hundreds were turned away.

The dramatic critics have admitted that it is "mighty" in the nakedness of its truth. Unpleasant it is, and horrifying, but yet it has the almost unexcelled quality of merciless realism. A young woman, Rachel Marshall, wrote this play, and it is to be produced at the Burton next Saturday and Sunday evenings, October 11 and 12.

Miss Marshall is a convent-bred woman, a descendant of Chief Justice Marshall, a granddaughter of Governor Vallée of Louisiana, and a colleague and follower of June Addams of Hull House, Chicago.

CHINESE SENSATION EMPIRE FEATURE TONIGHT

Thalen Duo, Dutch dialogue and fun at Empire.

Beginning with the new show to-night at the Empire, one of the most remarkable playlets in vogue will be the big sensational feature, a play that has aroused comment everywhere.

Its title, "The Yellow Fang," gives some clue to its character. It is a tale of love and sacrifice and Chinese methods, with a genuine reproduction of actual scenes of the San Francisco Chinatown.

It is a story of the underground life of the Chinese of San Francisco, and is founded on an actual occurrence, a history of which is to be found in the police records of the metropolis. In it is involved a white girl who has been placed under the influence of opium and who has been an unwilling and involuntary witness of many crimes. Just as the effect of the drug is wearing off a young man is lured to the den. As her mind clears the girl realizes his danger and, turning on her associates, she rescues him from their clutches. Almost simultaneous with this the police raid the place and events happen with such startling rapidity that the auditors are almost unable to keep pace with them. It is a tale of remarkable intensity and is one of the best features that ever traveled in vaudeville. The company is headed by Miss King, an actress of rare dramatic ability, and by Mr. Walter Millard, a capable character actor. This is the headliner of the new bill. Six people are used in the cast, and special scenery gives the correct setting.

There are other good acts on the bill to bring it up to the high standard that is demanded by Empire audiences. The Danworths with their refined Irish singing and talking with genuine Celtic wit and humor have a most enjoyable act.

The whistling Fitzgerald and Lorenz and their character singing is of the highest order.

The Thalen Duo have been known in Fresno before and have always been favorites. They have a singing and dancing act entitled "In Holland" and they make a delightful bill with their Dutch wit and costumes. Their makeup is characteristically Dutch.

Harold Hart, wire artist and juggler, is another good number on the new bill. There is an evening of splendid entertainment promised. Many have already reserved seats for the new show as packed houses are anticipated because of the big feature act. The phone number is 912. Shows begin at 7:45 and 9:15, with special matinees on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

CONSULTATION FREE*A Message to Thin, Weak, Scrawny Folks!

An Easy Way to Gain 10 to 30 lbs. of Solid, Healthy, Permanent Flesh.

Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I eat plenty of good, nourishing food." The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-storing elements of your food instead of passing them through the body as waste. What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative function of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood where they may reach the fat cells, shrink run-down tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. The best way to overcome this painful waste of flesh building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to use Surgol, the recently discovered potent force fluid is recommended so highly by physicians here and abroad. Take a little Surgol tablet with every meal and notice how quickly your cheeks fill out and rolls of firm, healthy flesh are deposited over your body, covering every bony angle and protecting point. San Joaquin Drug Co., (Wholesale) (Fresno), Patterson Block Pharmacy and other good druggists have Surgol, or you get it from its wholesaler, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the gain in weight it produces as stated on the package in each package. It is inexpensive, easy to take and highly efficient. Caution: While Surgol has produced remarkable results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles, it should not be taken unless you are willing to gain ten pounds or more. It is a wonderful flesh-builder.

A drama of extraordinary strength, "The Lost Millionaire" will be portrayed at the Fresno theater tonight only.

The story surrounds a "poor rich man" who seeks incessantly for the love of one good woman, but who does not find it until fate comes in and plays a hand. Having been sent into the coal lands of the south to purchase mines for his employer, Carter plans to rob Redwin and at the same time cheat Josephine, a girl of love and wealth. His plans are entirely frustrated by an accident which endows Redwin's mental abilities. The young millionaire wanders aimlessly about the country, not knowing who he is, and at the same time being sought for in every state in the union. At last fate steers him in and turns his way to the little mountain village in Tennessee where Josephine lives. They come in contact with each other and Redwin goes to live with Josephine and her father. They love each other and plan to marry. One day, through Josephine's conversation, Redwin realizes who he is. Then he decides that he must give Josephine a test before he marries her for he has vainly sought for true love among women of his own class and has grown to distrust them all. He sends her a check for a hundred thousand dollars for the coal lands she owned. To his great joy Josephine still loves him and offers to throw away the check in proof of her love. Overcome with happiness Redwin takes her father to New York where the maiden, ignorant of whom she is marrying, is astounded by the magnificence of Redwin's home and at first is angry with him, but the interest and the waiting minister consummates their marriage.

This production is a two-reel Vitagraph and when it is shown that such actors as Charles Kent and E. K. Lincoln, Anita Syward and Mary Maurer are in the cast, it is sure enough proof that this photoplay is far above the average.

COMMITTEES NAMED BY BARBERS IN FINAL SESSION

Decide to Continue to Meet At Same Time As General Federation

Fred B. Perry of Oakland Heads New List of State Officers

With the appointment of committees, the annual convention of the California State Federation of Barbers in this city came to a close last night. The Federation will hold its annual meeting next at the same place as the California State Federation of Labor, no change being made, as was anticipated.

Following are the committees appointed: R. E. Larabee, San Francisco; M. J. Sawyer, Sacramento; A. E. Harvey, Los Angeles; R. H. Baker, San Francisco; L. Keller, Fresno.

Committee on constitution: Joe Duval, Coling, San Francisco; H. H. Grou, Stockton; W. P. Francis, Sacramento.

By-laws committee: R. H. Baker, San Francisco; G. J. Smith, Oakland; H. H. Grou, Stockton.

Officers elected at the opening meeting Monday are as follows: President, Fred B. Perry, Oakland; first vice president, L. Keller, Fresno; second vice president, W. P. Francis, Sacramento; third vice president, A. E. Harvey, Los Angeles; fourth vice president, R. E. Larabee, San Francisco; fifth vice president, H. H. Grou, Stockton; secretary-treasurer, D. M. Tattenbaum, San Francisco; organizer, C. M. Felder, Los Angeles.

CONVENTION CITY UNDECIDED.

Owing to the action of the constitution, which provides that the annual convention of the Federation of Barbers shall be held at the same time and in the same place as the California State Federation of Labor, the choosing of a convention city was impossible.

An effort to change the constitution in order to give the barbers a separate convention city was made at the meeting yesterday but did not meet with general favor. The decision to hold the meeting in connection with the state federation was reached several years ago. It is the contention of a number of members that delegates elected to the "Barbers" convention and also to the California State Federation of Labor meeting take more interest in the state meeting and therefore give the greater portion of their time to the larger organization.

EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETS. At the meeting of the executive board late last night the organization went on record as favoring the general 8-hour law and decided to immediately put an organizer in the field to help all trade unions. The barbers will not confine themselves to assisting their own local but will assist in the upbuilding of other unions as well.

The executive board will act as the sanctioning committee. The duty of the members of this committee is to inspect every union shop in the state and see that sanitary rules and measures are enforced. Every vice president is held responsible for his district.

REV. COWGILL TO ARRIVE TONIGHT

Rev. F. B. Cowgill, pastor of the First Methodist church, is expected to arrive this evening from St. Paul, Minn., to take up his new duties in this city. His first sermon will be preached next Sunday.

WAGON TIPS OVER.

Two men, attached to a Fresno Fuel Company's wagon ran away yesterday afternoon on Blackstone avenue and tipped the wagon over at O and Stanislaus streets. A front wheel was pulled off the coal wagon. Coal was scattered about the streets and the route of the runaway horses. No one was injured.

MANLY LIVES, CLEAN IN ATHLETICS, IN SPEECH, AND MODE OF LIVING, URGED BY SPEAKERS AT STUDENTS' LEAGUE MEETING

A manly life, clean in speech, athletics and mode of living, will be the aim of members of the Students' League of Fresno High School, if the principles, as expounded by speakers at the organization banquet, held at the Young Men's Christian Association last evening, are taken to heart.

"Play the Game" is the motto of the club in which nearly a hundred young men enrolled at the meeting.

The desirability of clean speech was emphasized by School Superintendent C. C. Starr in the principal address of the evening, delivered at the conclusion of the banquet.

"There are two good, strong reasons for the adoption of clean speech," maintained Superintendent Starr, continuing. "The first is that it is not popular to indulge in the other kind, and as for the second, you are told on excellent authority of nearly two thousand years standing that it is not right to indulge in it."

"The character of a person's speech is his passport to society. Faulty speech is often merely the record of an ignorant mind. The use of repulsive adjectives shows a low thought expression, of a type that breeds suspicion that the person knows no better."

Unclean speech is indicative of an unbalanced mind, but more commonly is merely the spontaneous effusions from a foul mind.

"Foul speech may be likened to the rank of the serpent and growth of the lower nature, the growth of the worst rather than the best elements in human nature. Envy, hatred, revenge, malice, scorn, fighting, vice and brutality are the enemies of the world's better, and the language of the worst."

Assertion of such unclean speech is not used in connection with the speaker's sentiments. The masterpieces of eloquence and poetry are expressed in the purest terms of speech. Only the purest language is indicative of the purest mind, and the latter on the advancement of the league to the high school boys.

Following the school superintendent, Mr. Starr, who presided at the meeting, Mr. Starr, associate pastor of the First Christian church, and lecturer to the Students' League, made the concluding speech.

He spoke of the game of life, considering the great struggle before every boy to decide his part in the fight for existence. He announced the subject for the first meeting of the league next Tuesday evening to be "The True Sport."

which his talk will be followed by general discussion. The young men were all supplied with membership cards, which the majority signed. The card reads: "I hereby become a member of the Students' League of the Fresno high school, and put myself on record as standing for clean speech, clean athletics and clean life, and will endeavor to spread the principles among my companions and to help my fellow students in every possible way."

PHYSICIANS ADMIT ONE TO MEMBERSHIP

One physician was admitted to membership and two applications received, at the monthly meeting of the Fresno County Medical Society last night in the office of Dr. Troutweide. Dr. R. M. Jones of Fresno was taken into the organization, while Dr. R. E. Dixon of Hanford and Dr. J. W. Nickelson of Fresno applied for membership. The next meeting of the society will be held in Hanford, Dr. Rossin entertaining the physicians.

A report of cases and general discussion as to health conditions in Fresno and Kings counties occupied the attention of the members. Dr. Walter reported a case of throat trouble and loss of voice in a small boy.

CALIFORNIA LAND SHOW IN WEEK

Army of Men, Divided Into Groups Is Working On Exhibits

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—But one week remains until the opening of the California Land Show and Home Industry Exhibition. In one week the great pavilion has been transformed into a veritable forest in which hundreds of trees are growing with greenery and shrubbery with fountains of electric globes gaily decorated with artificial poinsettias.

An army of men divided into groups is working upon the various exhibits. Here is the skeleton of a dome-like structure towering into the branches of the redwoods. It is to be covered with the products of Sacramento county and when finished will be a replica of the State Capitol. Across the broad aisle is a giant clock, the construction of which, by its actual mechanism, will be entirely of apples. This is one of the features of Sonoma county. In the distance is a huge oil derrick and a drilling outfit from the Standard Oil Company's plant at Richmond. In another section is an immense model of Sutter and Yuba counties showing the river, railroads, cities and agricultural lands. These counties will also have a miniature growing vineyard. These are but a few of the many feature exhibits in course of construction. In a few days the number of men will be doubled and what are at present crude structures will begin to take on form and color.

Monterey county will have a classic pergola with twining vines. Kern county will show its oil and mineral products as well as its fruit. Contra Costa county will have an agricultural exhibit in addition to the extensive industrial display of Richmond. Mendocino county will have a display consisting entirely of apples. Fresno county will show dried fruits, the famous raisins and the vegetables which, while not yet as famous, are soon becoming so. Humboldt and Santa Cruz counties will both display apples and will contend with Sonoma for the supremacy in this line, both having planned most unique exhibits.

San Mateo will display a most artistic display which is to include the industrial as well as the agricultural products of that section. Artistic stone seats, Pompeian urns and terra cotta things will enter into the scheme of design, and orchards representing thousands of dollars will be displayed as well as prize chrysanthemums and other products of San Mateo county. Merced county has chosen a unique feature display, one which must indelibly impress the visitor with the leading product of that county. A huge model in the form of a wheat stalk, which will be seen from every side of the pavilion, will serve as the office of the men in charge of the exhibit. Sweet potatoes will be the theme of the literature they will distribute. Similarly other counties will make specialties of peaches, and five carloads of the delicious fruit will be given away on "Pioneer Day," October 15th.

The individual exhibitors will vie with the counties. Many of these have industrial exhibits of great value. But the highlight of the show will be the nature of the great irrigation system at Brantwood. The Italian-Swiss colony will show the various stages of the process of wine making and will supply the exhibit with most specialties of peaches, and five carloads of the delicious fruit will be given away on "Pioneer Day," October 15th.

The coming week will see a marvelous transformation in the interior of the pavilion. Every day, every hour, marks a distinct change in the general appearance, and the entire area under the canvas resembles nothing so much as a community of busy building ants.

The opening ceremonies of the Land Show are to be of the most impressive character and calculated to give some hint of the real significance of the show as an institution of the state and of the progress of the agricultural and horticultural progress upon which it depends. The California Grays, the official escort of the mayor and standing for the military dignity of the state, will lend a touch of color to the opening ceremonies. The cities of California will be represented as well as the agricultural districts and the municipal exhibit of San Francisco, which will be prepared by a committee of five, appointed by Mayor Ralph for the work will be one of the finest of its kind ever seen in the United States. Superintendent McLane of Golden Gate Park will cooperate with City Architect Reid in the preparation of a model of the Civic Center, which will include a miniature of the city hall and the grounds with the other public buildings of the group, in exact scale, set with lawns, flower trees and fountains. The city will also exhibit playgrounds and school houses and new appliances for the fire and health departments.

The city of Oakland is to have an exhibit in addition to the elaborate one in preparation by Alameda county, 500 square feet of floor space having been contracted for by the lending really terms across the bay. The exact nature of the exhibit has not been announced, but it is expected to be of an elaborate nature. Alameda county is the largest individual exhibitor at the show.

From the opening of the show until the closing, fifteen days later, there will not be a lull or dull moment in the life of activity inside of the great pavilion. Every county is planning special features of entertainment and the musical program given by the various attractions such as the Festival Chorus, the bands and orchestras and the brigade of Highland bagpipers, will provide constant amusement to the crowds.

The stream of home-seekers from the East has already commenced in this direction and every day sees a great influx of men looking for farming locations in California. By the time of the opening of the Land Show this travel will be at its height, and it is conservatively estimated that 800,000 people will attend the show. The price of admission, which has been set at 25c, that the counties and exhibitors may have the benefit of the greatest view, is a popular feature and one that given assurance of large attendance.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—Dr. Paul S. Rehnard, the new American minister to China, called for the first time today on the Japanese minister Togo Maru.

POLICE WILL WEAR HELMETS THIS YEAR

The police department has decided to wear the helmets this winter and cast off the caps and today an order will be sent to a supply house for enough helmets for the officers. Many of the officers objected to going back to the helmets but the majority ruled, the finest of blue uniforms will be worn this winter.

LIGHT FROST FALLS AGAIN

A light frost of which there was no official record by the weather bureau, gathered in the lowland about this city yesterday morning but no damage to the remaining Molagas and Emperors on the vines was reported. The frosts Sunday and Monday morning were heavier but damage was light. A few leaves of the vines were nipped and the leaves of grape vines curled by the cold.

Philadelphia Defeats New York In First Game

"HOME RUN" BAKER FEATURES BY DRIVING OUT CIRCUIT SWAT

Shafer's Error Costs Gotham Pennant Winners First Contest of Series Chief Bender Pitches Superb Ball Against the Giants

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Out-hitting, and out-fielding the New York Giants in the opening game of the world's series, the Philadelphia Athletics defeated the National league champions at the Polo Grounds this afternoon by a score of 6 to 4. So complete was the supremacy of the American league champions in the initial contest that the victory appeared to be but a continuation of the series of 1911.

Much as the local contingent of fandom was chagrined at the defeat of the Giants there were none who could gainsay the right of the Athletics to the fruits of the victory in the opening clash. The Mackmen out-batted the Giants, driving both Marquard and Crandall from the mound.

Each team gathered eleven hits from the delivery of the rival twirlers, but the Athletics' drives were more timely and of greater length. The Giants gathered twelve bases from their eleven hits, while the Athletics total was twenty. The breaks that occurred in the fielding tested the mettle of the Philadelphia club to a greater extent than the New York players, for with few exceptions the Athletics' chances were better, than those that were offered the Giants' infield and outfield.

SHAFFER'S ERROR COSTLY

It was Centerfielder Shafer's misjudgment of Shantz's drive to deep center that really paved the way for the Athletics' victory. The Giants started a rally in the fifth inning which netted three runs, but the Mack men came back with another in the eighth and clinched the victory.

It has been said that every world's series develops a hero and the Athletics lost no time in seeking the laurels in that direction. Eddie Collins played a remarkable game at second base, making four put-outs and six assists without a semblance of an error in the long double play on the bases, which stopped short a Giant rally in the seventh inning and caused McGraw to jump up and down with rage and disappointment.

John Franklin Baker and Chief Bender did yeoman work that entitled them to recognition. Baker made history repeat itself when he drove a home run into the grand stand back of right field scoring Collins from second ahead of him. The situation and hits were much the same as in the second game of the 1911 series when Baker lifted the ball over the fence. Marquard overflew and paved the way for an Athletic victory.

To Bender goes the credit for out-pitching both Marquard and Crandall and showing skill and nerve in several places when the Giants appeared about to break through his delivery and take the lead.

By outlasting both Marquard and Crandall he gave the Athletics the edge on tomorrow's game, since McGraw must use either Mathewson or Denton or come back with Teraura, while the leader of the Athletics has Phoebe Shantz and Brown all available.

MURPHY HITS FIRST BALL

Eddie Murphy, playing in his first world series, faced Marquard, who pitched a "play ball." The left-handed pitcher, following Mathewson's usual custom of grooving the first ball, let go a pitch that Murphy caught on the end of his bat and sent it to Murray for an easy catch. Oldring started in to pitch, but the Athletics shouting when he slashed a single to right field. Marquard, believing that Oldring would try to steal second, kept him close to the bag and finally by a lightning throw caught the Philadelphia base runner napping. Marquard making the out, Oldring protested against Empire State's decision, but it availed him nothing. On the next ball-pitched Collins shot a clean base hit to center, but he was left at first when Baker filled out to Burns.

When New York came to bat there was much cheering, but the Giants supporters did not last long. Shafer, the first to free the Indian, sent up a fly to Murphy in right field and Doyle filled out to Strunk. Fletcher sent a grounder past shortstop, but the first ball pitched Fletcher tried to steal. Schantz's beautiful throw to Collins beat him and the side was out.

GAME RUNS CLOSE

Philadelphia went out in order in the second inning. Melins, some of whose Massachusetts friends cheered him as he came to bat, went out. Herzog to Merkle. Strunk usually a weak hitter against left handed pitching struck out, and Barry was the third out on a grounder. Fletcher to Merkle.

New York got one man on base in its half of the second, but he did not get beyond first base. Burns struck out after Bender had pitched him three bad balls. Melins, unassisted, took care of Herzog's grounder. Murphy shot a single along the left field foul line and might have gotten the large had not Oldring by a good springing and a fast throw kept him from stretching his hit. The Indian pitcher seemed to put on more speed when New York's red skin catcher came to bat. McGraw, however, hit his brother Indian's offense, but he shot up in the air and into Oldring's hands.

GIANTS SCORE ONE. Connie Mack's young catcher opened the Athletics' third by flying out to Burns. Bender sent a lazy grounder to Fletcher and the side was out at first. Murphy sent a single to center, but was forced by Oldring. Fletcher making the out unassisted.

The Giants broke the ice in the third inning when Bender was touched up for two hits. Merkle brought them from the stand by sending a slow bouncer in Shortstop Barry, who could not get up to it, quick enough to handle it cleanly and make the out. It was a scratch single to Merkle. Marquard sacrificed, putting Merkle on second. He was held on the middle base while Shafer was caught out by Strunk, but he sprang home a minute later when Doyle shot a fly to center. The New York routers shouted wildly for Fletcher to bring Doyle home, but he was not equal to the occasion. He sent up a long fly to Murphy.

THREE FOR ATHLETICS. New York having the edge on Philadelphia put the crowd in good humor. The Athletics, simply, arrested their teeth and went after Marquard. They shelled the outer works of the Giants, and when the smoke blew away three runs were across the plate. Collins opened up on the left hander with a terrific drive over Shafer's head. The ball roared in the center field and Collins brought a third amid the plaudits of the Athletic routers. Baker drove a hard one at Doyle, which the latter could not handle in time to get him at first and Fletcher made home with the first run for Philadelphia. Melins sacrificed, Marquard to Merkle, and Baker two second. Strunk sent a little grounder to Marquard who headed Baker off at third, Herzog taking the throw.

Then Barry, the lightest blitzer of the Athletics infield, ripped a two-base hit down the left field line which placed Strunk on third. Both of them scored on Schantz's tremendous three-base drive to deep center.

It appeared as if Shafer had misjudged the ball. He started in, then stopped. The ball struck the fingers of his left hand and rolled on toward the center field. The players threw up sweaters and hats to the air and otherwise shouted their joy. Bender ended the inning by going out, Marquard to Merkle.

New York opened its fourth inning auspiciously. Burns slugging a double down the left field line, but he was run down when Bender stopped Herzog's grounder. Bender threw to Baker, who touched Burns out near second base. Herzog, in the meantime, had sprinted to second, where he was left as Murray struck out and Meyers sent a high fly to Oldring.

BAKER HITS HOMER. The fifth inning brought more fame to "Home Run" Baker. Both Murphy and Bender were thrown out at first by Marquard, who got their easy grounders. Collins worked Marquard for the first base on balls in the game and promptly stole second, exactly the same position as obtained in Philadelphia two years ago when Baker hit Marquard for a home run, presented

Heavy Hitting Athletics Connect With Three Giant Pitchers for Win

FIRST INNING.

Athletics—John Brush Hempstead, the young son of the late John T. Brush, president of the Giants, threw out the ball, and the world's battle was on. Murphy smashed the first ball pitched. Marquard shot a strike over to Oldring. Oldring singled to right on the second ball, between Doyle and Merkle. Marquard tried to catch Oldring at first, but could not quite get him. The New York pitcher used plenty of speed and kept the ball around the Athletics' knees. Collins was caught by a quick throw by Marquard to Merkle. Collins singled sharply to center, after having two strikes called on him. The crowd gave "Home Run" Baker a big cheer when he came to bat. Baker filled out to Melins.

GIANTS—Bender grinned as Shafer came to bat, and shot a wild curve which was close to Shafer's knees. It was a ball. The next one was a strike. Bender had good speed, which was difficult to follow in the dark day. Shafer filled out to Murphy. Doyle cut on a high fly to Strunk. Fletcher got a single by Barry for New York's first hit. Fletcher out, stealing. Schantz to Collins. Fletcher was caught at least ten feet off the bag.

NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

SECOND INNING. Athletics—Melins fouled the first pitched. Collins filled out, Herzog to Merkle. Strunk batted, being unable to solve Marquard's puzzling shoots. Barry out, Fletcher to Merkle.

NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

GIANTS—Bender employed a wild out shoot and a high fast one. Burns filled out, after three balls and one strike called. Bender shot over two curves on Burns for strikes, sending the New York batsman back to the bench. Herzog out on a grounder to Melins, who retired the runner at the bag. Murray singled to left and would have taken second on Oldring's quick fielding and throw drove him back to first. With Meyers at the bat he was Indian against Indian. Meyer filled to Oldring.

NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

THIRD INNING. Athletics—Schantz out on a high one to Burns. The crowd gave the Indian, Bender, a big hand when he came to the plate. The Chief went out, Fletcher to Collins. Fletcher made a poor throw, but Merkle sprang the ball. Murphy got a Texas leaguer to center, which Shafer could not get near. Murphy was forced at second when Fletcher took Oldring's grounder and touched second base.

GIANTS—Meyers sent a high foul near the right field stand, but neither Melins nor Murphy could get near it. Merkle got an infield hit which Barry could not field in time to catch the runner. Marquard sacrificed. Collins to Melins. Win one out and a man on base. Schantz's throw kept up a constant cheering. Shafer out on a fly to Strunk. Merkle scored on Doyle's single to right. The crowd was in a frenzy. Fletcher filled to Murphy.

ONE RUN, TWO HITS, NO ERRORS.

FOURTH INNING. Athletics—Collins sent a long drive to the center field fence for three bases. It was the first ball pitched. With Baker at the bat the Philadelphia fans cheered to the echo. Baker fouled off the first ball. Collins scored on Baker's infield hit, which Doyle was barely able to knock away with his gloved hand. Baker was out at third when Marquard speared Strunk's grounder and threw to Herzog. Barry doubled down the left field line, sending Strunk to third. Strunk and Barry scored on Schantz's three-base hit. It looked as if Shafer's error would be the last of his.

NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

FIFTH INNING. Athletics—Murphy went out hunting. Marquard to Merkle. Marquard took Oldring's grounder and threw the batter out at first. Marquard became unsteady and gave three balls to Collins before pitching a strike. Collins walked and stole second. Collins and Baker scored off Baker's grounder and tossed to Baker, who threw to Collins, who returned the ball to Baker for the out-out. Herzog went to second on the play. Murray was a strike-out victim. Meyers filled out to Oldring.

NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

SIXTH INNING. Athletics—Crandall went into the box for New York. Each side had made eight hits. Strunk filled to Shafer. After having two strikes called on Shafer, Crandall gave the batter three balls. Barry went out on a long fly to Burns. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING. Athletics—Bender fanned. Murphy out, Doyle to Merkle. Crandall's big roundhouse curves seemed to worry the Athletics' twirlers. Oldring out on a hard line to Shafer.

NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

GIANTS—Shafer got his first hit, a liner over second base, for a single. Doyle singled to right. Shafer taking third. It was a hit and run play, beautifully worked. A double play killed the Giants' chances for scoring. Barry took Fletcher's grounder and Merkle ran to first and after that there was a long argument and the batter was declared out on strikes by Umpire Egan.

NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

GIANTS—Crandall out, Barry to Melins. Shafer got his first hit, a liner over second base, for a single. Doyle singled to right. Shafer taking third. It was a hit and run play, beautifully worked. A double play killed the Giants' chances for scoring. Barry took Fletcher's grounder and Merkle ran to first and after that there was a long argument and the batter was declared out on strikes by Umpire Egan.

40,000 FANS ATTEND INITIAL BATTLE OF THE WORLD SERIES

Polo Grounds Crowded to Capacity With Host of Enthusiasts; $75,000 Are Gross Receipts for Day; Ticket Line Forms At Midnight

PLAYERS MAKE MONEY

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Total paid attendance at the game was 36,291; total receipts, $75,000. Of this sum the National Commission receives $7500; the clubs, $13,546 each, and the players, $40,838.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The game of the world series here today was attended by a gathering of spectators that taxed the capacity of the New York club stadium and swelled the coffers of those financially interested to the extent of more than $75,000. The exact number of fans who paid admission to the stands was 36,291 and the day's receipts amounted to $75,000. These figures, as furnished by the National Commission, occasioned surprise for the attendance fell short by more than 2000 that of the first game of 1911.

Including those who witnessed the game in official capacity, the attendance crossed the 40,000 mark and fully half that number failed to gain access to the park.

So great were the throngs that surrounded the Polo Grounds that it was necessary to call out the police reserves and discontinue the elevated railroad service to the ground's gates in steady streams, rolling in from dozens of carriages in long black files. At the noon hour struck the last of the seats was sold and before another sixty minutes had passed standing room alone remained.

An hour before the game began the tide gate in the center field fence was opened and the Giants' Athletics trooped forth in the accompaniment of a burst of cheering that could be heard for blocks. Soon the Athletics were in the midst of hitting practice.

In marked contrast to the scenes of previous years the great gathering was noticeably unimpassioned. The Athletics appeared to have almost no many supporters present as the Giants. The cowbells and horns of two-year-olds were not in evidence.

MANAGERS MAKE PREDICTIONS. Connie Mack predicted a world's championship for the Athletics before this was closed, after a run of hard-fought games.

Manager McGraw of the Giants was no less sure of a triumph for his men. Both contending teams got a long night's rest. The Athletics retired soon after their arrival on a late evening train from Philadelphia. The Giants, on the other hand, were in the city and so turned in early after their final workout on today's battle ground. Mack seemed particularly pleased with the physical condition of Chief Bender. McGraw gave Mathewson, his standby in years of campaigning and in three previous world's series, a careful looking over and seemed entirely satisfied.

McGraw, however, admittedly was facing a problem raised by an injury to Fred Snodgrass. Snodgrass has been troubled with a "charley horse" for nearly two weeks and yesterday he practiced his injured leg in practice. Snodgrass' out moment Charley Herzog in. Shafer in centerfield with Herzog on third was the alignment discussed, as the official announcement of the lineup was awaited.

CROWD PATIENT. The record for patience was set by John Harris, a chauffeur who sat by the line arriving at four o'clock yesterday afternoon and who seemed to be determined to wait the first 10. He fell in behind him as the night wore on amused themselves by singing songs and swapping theories as to the outcome of the championship.

"Who will pitch?" and "Will it rain?" were questions on everybody's lips. To the first there was divided opinion. Some were certain that McGraw, the leader of the Giants would equally certain that Marquard would be seen in the box. The invading camp felt sure Connie Mack, the Philadelphia leader, had decided to start with Bender.

Hotels were reported heavier today but still at even money. Professional bettors do not figure largely in baseball, so it is difficult to obtain definite information as to the amount of wagers but one estimate described as "moderate" places the total sum at $1,000,000.

With all of the 8000 reserved seats previously disposed of, the rush of the ticket buyers was concentrated at the gates of the grounds where 30,000 seats were to be sold between 5 o'clock this morning and gate time at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Complaints of ticket speculation appeared less acute this year than previously but there still was trouble. It became known that in some quarters speculators had obtained at least a few batches of tickets which they offered at $50, a new price record, insisting that the agents were forced to pay more than ever to get half of the seats.

TEAMS READY EARLY. The Giants and Athletics came early to the club houses, which lie behind the back field bleachers. Bender was first in uniform. The Indian's delight in a new crowd. There was a rousing cheer as the Athletics' pitcher, ball pitcher, his head out of the little doorway under the centerfield stand.

Shortly after the contending sides trotted on the field and then came the batting practice. Hit after hit was driven by the Giant batters to the far corners of the field. Of course, the hits were made off straight ball pitching but it seemed to press heavy hitting by the home club and the crowd was happy. Fielding practice was brisk and brilliant by the home folks and the so turned in early after their final

Big Auto and Horse Races for Hanford Fair

MRS. WORRY—John Touched Her Sense of Pride That Time

By C. A. Voight

STATE WINNERS TO TAKE PART IN HARNESS MEET

May Mack and Guy Borden Will Meet Again Today On Hanford Track

Three Fresno Drivers Entered In Automobile Meet Saturday

HANFORD, Oct. 7.—One of the biggest horse racing programs ever furnished for the opening day's racing of the Hanford fair will be run off here tomorrow. Automobile racing will be a feature of the fair. Saturday, the closing day, has been given over to this sport, the route to be over the Hanford streets.

Many of the horses that ran at the Fresno District Fair have entered and will appear on the local course. May Mack, the McKenzie that lowered the year's record for the mile, is entered as well as a number of other horses. Guy Borden, for the first time defeated in Fresno last week, is another animal which will take part in the week's racing.

All in all, the racing program is one of the most complete ever offered for the opening day of racing. Officials have been chosen. A number

VENICE THUMPS PORTLAND CROWD

Wilhoit Slams Out Triple and Single In Two Trips to Plate

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7.—A badly demoralized Portland club shared a 14 to 6 defeat with Pitcher Stanley, the Beavers' southpaw recruit, in the first game of the series with Venice today. The youngster was subjected to unnecessary punishment as Manager McCordie refused to bench him when the tack proved too great for him and he was pounded for 18 nits, including three triples and as many two base clubs. Hitt toyed with the Portland batters and held them to a scattered five safeties.

With the game clinched, Manager Hagan gave his portfolio, Butler and Wilhoit, a trial. Of two trips to the plate Wilhoit smashed out a triple and a single. Score:

AZEVEDO AND DUNDEE MATCH HELD UP ON ACCOUNT OF WEIGHT

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7.—The scheduled twenty-round bout between Joe Azavedo, the California-Mexican lightweight and Johnny Dundee of New York, is now threatened with a weight disagreement. While Dundee is holding out for 133 pounds ringweight, the California fighter insists on making the weight three hours before the battle, it became known today.

It appears that one or the other has been laboring under a misunderstanding with the matchmaker as each looks to the Pacific Athletic club to support his views as per the original articles of agreement. Representatives of the fighters are expected to meet today to settle the weight question, if possible.

OAKLAND LOSES TO DILLONITES

Angels Hit Commuter Twirlers to Every Corner of Enclosure

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—In a listless game here today Los Angeles battled Oakland all over the field and won, 8 to 2. The Angels by timely slugging had the game tied up in the third inning. Oakland failed to score after the fourth, while Los Angeles cut away with five runs. In the third Edlis lined out a homer over right field fence, scoring Crabbe. Score:

VISALIA DEFEATS EXETER IN RUGBY

(Special to the Republican.)
VISALIA, Oct. 7.—The superior playing and heavier weight in the scrum of the Visalia high boys was too much for the Exeter team today and the locals won out by a score of 11 to 4 in the first rugby game of the season. Both teams were weak on the line out and in passing. Exeter showed considerable class in the scrum but this was offset by the weight advantage of Visalia. Lucas of Visalia scored in two long runs, which were features of the contest. A return meet will be played at Exeter a week from today.

BUSINESS SUSPENDED.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—Business was practically suspended in the center of this city while the game between the Athletics and Giants was in progress in New York. Crowds surrounded score boards. More than 10,000 spectators watched an electric score board from the city hall plaza, while others viewed the game in theaters. Every score was the signal of an outbreak of cheering, accompanied by the tooting of countless automobiles horns.
There was very little betting here. Pitcher John Coombs, hero of two previous world's series and the only eligible to participate in the series not at the Polo Grounds, received the report of the game by telephone at his bedside in New York. Crowds surrounded score boards. More than 10,000 spectators watched an electric score board from the city hall plaza, while others viewed the game in theaters. ## DEFEAT OVERALL AT SACRAMENTO

Sailor Stroud More Effective In Pinches, Winning 3 to 2

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 7.—Overall was not as effective in the pinches today as was Sailor Stroud, and Sacramento defeated San Francisco, 3 to 2, in the opening game of the series. Corban's triple and Young's error on a throw to the plate gave the Seals the first run in the second. Overall's single, a force out, an infield out and Johnstone's single on a hit and run play added the second.

In the fourth Shinn walked, stole second and scored on Kenworthy's triple to center. Swain's single over Corban scored Kenworthy. The other run for the Wolves came in the sixth with two out, when a double steal advanced men to second and third and Moran slid in to first in time to heat out a hit to Corban. Score:

VISALIA DEFEATS EXETER IN RUGBY

(Special to the Republican.)
VISALIA, Oct. 7.—The superior playing and heavier weight in the scrum of the Visalia high boys was too much for the Exeter team today and the locals won out by a score of 11 to 4 in the first rugby game of the season. Both teams were weak on the line out and in passing. Exeter showed considerable class in the scrum but this was offset by the weight advantage of Visalia. Lucas of Visalia scored in two long runs, which were features of the contest. A return meet will be played at Exeter a week from today.

VISALIA WOMAN SUES LANDLORD OF HOTEL

Seeks $4,000 and Injunction Against Newspaper Publishing Plant

VISALIA, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Laura W. Brumfield, proprietress of the Hotel King Edward, filed suit in Superior Court today against George A. Ballou, a well known capitalist, and against the Tulare County Press for $4,000.

In addition, she asks for a permanent injunction preventing the operation of the printing machinery, on the ground that it has destroyed the value of the premises for hotel purposes.

She also asks that Ballou be prevented from allowing a woman of the underworld, to occupy a certain room in the hotel, which she claims was set aside for his individual use, but which he has not occupied personally. Mrs. Brumfield claims that she secured a three-year lease on the two upper floors of the building in question. On Sept. 1, she wrote Ballou, leaving the lower floor to the publishing company, with the result that the room and confusion of the machinery caused such a jar and vibration to the entire building that her guests either left the hotel or were forced to move from the second to the third floor.

The operation of the machinery, she claims, has damaged her business to the extent of $2,000.

For a second cause of action the plaintiff charges that the room reserved for Ballou, but which she claims he has not occupied individually, is being occupied by a certain Lucile Eddy, who is characterized as a sporting woman. The complaint also alleges that men visit the room at all hours of the night, and that her presence in the room is the cause of driving away respectable trade.

On account of the prominence of all parties concerned the filing of the suit produced a sensation here today. The Hotel King Edward is the second largest hotel of the city.

HOLD INQUEST FOR UNIDENTIFIED MAN

Testimony Fails to Reveal Name of Man Found Dead Beside Railroad Tracks At Selma

SELMA, Oct. 7.—Deputy Coroner L. O. Stephens held an inquest today over the body of a man found dead near the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks a mile north of this city. Testimony failed to reveal the name of the man, or the manner of his injuries. The cause of death was a fracture of the skull. The dead man was about 35 years of age, and was apparently a working man. He had dark brown hair and brown eyes, and wore a Van Dyke beard. He was about 5 feet 4 inches tall.

Although many came to view the face at the morgue today, no one could say positively that he had seen the man before, and he will probably be buried in the potter's field.

While the cause of his death is only speculation, it is thought that he was sitting on the end of the ties, and that he was struck in the head by the piston-head of a passing engine. The crushed skull would seem to indicate this, as also the position in which the body was found. However, there is a strange mark across the throat, suggesting possibly a slash with a dull knife. This has led the officers to search for evidence of a murder, but a careful search of the vicinity has brought forth no evidence. The fact that there was nothing in the pockets, but a broken pocket-comb, might suggest robbery; but there is no evidence of struggle.

Suicide has also been suggested, but the marks on the throat were an attempted slash the instrument cannot be found. It appears that the man was preparing to make his bed, as his blankets were untied near by, while his coat was lying on the head of the ties. The broken comb, an old tin snapper, and a handkerchief containing some crusts of bread and some walnuts, appeared to be the only possessions of the man. It is generally believed by those who have studied the case that he sat down beside the railroad, and fell asleep, and was struck by a passing train as he was aroused from his sleep. The man had been dead several hours when the body was discovered by the rear flagman of a freight train.

SAN JOSE PEOPLE FORM ASSOCIATION

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 7.—Forty-nine former San Jose families now in the Porterville district met late last week at the Phillips place in Deer Creek for a picnic, and the organization of the San Jose-Porterville association. To make the organization a permanency, Frank Leffler, a Sunny-side orange grower, was chosen president, and Mrs. Gertrude Jones, secretary. Present meetings of the association will be held during the winter. The objects of the association will be chiefly social in character.

BALD AT 35

Cleanse the Scalp; Nourish the Hair and Never Grow Bald—Use Parisian Sage

Don't grow bald at 35 as thousands of men do—yes! and women also. Failure to keep the hair properly nourished and the scalp free from dandruff is one of the main causes of baldness.

If your hair is thinning out, immediate action is necessary. Parisian Sage is just what you need to remove dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp, and make the hair strong, beautiful and vigorous.

This delightful and refreshing hair-tonic, which is now sold at drug stores and toilet counters in 50 cent bottles, is rightly guaranteed. If Parisian Sage does not give you complete satisfaction, San Joaquin Drug Co. will return your money.

Parisian Sage surely supplies hair needs. The first application removed dandruff, invigorated the scalp and put life and beauty into thin, dull and faded hair.

Personal Mention Of Prominent People In San Joaquin Valley

J. C. NEEDHAM, former congressman accompanied by his wife, left Washington, Oct. 2, and after a trip to the old home in Northampton, Massachusetts, they will start for Modesto and are expected to arrive in about a week.

J. C. THOMPSON and wife will arrive this week from Mitchell county, Kansas, to spend the winter with their son, J. H. Thompson, of Dinuba.

FRANK LAMBERSON, district attorney of Tulare, accompanied by his wife, has returned to Visalia from a trip to San Francisco and thence by boat as far as Concord, making stops at all the principal county points.

G. ENOLUND, of Seattle, Washington is a guest of his daughter, Mrs. C. R. Wickstrom, at Furlock.

MRS. JOHN NEHL, of Hanford, left for Chicago, and will visit at the old home in Racine before returning. She will be absent several months.

MRS. J. W. ROSSEAU and Mrs. Lou Jones have returned to Modesto from Somerset, Kentucky, after an absence during the summer.

W. GRAY, president of the Dominion Oil Co., is in Coalinga from Toronto, Canada. Besides attending to business in oil and petroleum mines near Coalinga, Mr. Gray is also largely interested in railroad building in Canada, being president of a company that is building a road in the mining region north of Toronto.

BAKERSFIELD BREVITIES

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 7.—A. C. Balch, vice president of the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation, A. Barnes, general manager of the Midway Gas Company, and a party of friends from Los Angeles, arrived in Bakersfield Sunday to inspect the company's property. On that day a visit was made to the company's Midway fields to examine the new oil separator recently installed to furnish power for the Los Angeles system. Yesterday the Lerdo Land Company was visited with a view of installing a cement piping system. The Lerdo Co. has succeeded in getting an increase in wages. They formerly received $18 per week, and 60 per cent of the proceeds above $30, hereafter they will get $20 and the same percentage.

Judgment of the defendant has been entered in the case of J. A. Waltman versus Attorney J. H. Tam. The plaintiff was suing as an assignee of Joe Marracchi, and alleged that the sum of $1,000, a release of Marracchi with the plaintiff involved in a criminal action was appropriated by Attorney Tam after the criminal action was ended.

Tam said Marracchi advised him to retain the $1,000, and release Marracchi with the plaintiff involved in a criminal action was appropriated by Attorney Tam after the criminal action was ended.

The last rites for Harry Bloodworth, aged 72 years, who died over a week ago, were held today. Long search failed to disclose the address of any relatives, and the task was finally given up as hopeless.

The Socialist local held a house warming in the new headquarters of the Kern County Labor Council Sunday, and installed officers for the coming year. They were: R. W. Henderson, financial secretary; Mrs. J. W. Blake, recording secretary; and Secretary William Ahlander. Literature agent, Mary McKee will be invited to give a lecture here. He was one of those convicted for violation of the San Diego law against gambling.

Three months in jail before being pardoned. It was announced that J. Stitt Wilson, who is touring the state, will be here November 1.

A picnic at Woody was enjoyed Sunday. At the picnic the members of the Bakersfield Motorcycle Club, who made the trip on their machines. A barbecue was enjoyed, there was dancing on the outdoor dance floor, and a number of vaqueros in the vicinity participated in a horse-back riding contest. There were several accidents. An informal bill climbing contest was also participated in, and won by a forest ranger who happened to be there.

Bakersfield has experienced unrelenting cold weather for the past few nights, although 45 degrees is the coldest yet recorded.

The first arrests here in many months for violations of the gambling ordinance occurred late Sunday evening, when four laborers were pinched for patronizing a game run by a Chinaman. He escaped and is still at large.

George Musson, Pete Prew, W. H. King and H. L. Spears. They all pleaded guilty before the city recorder and will be sentenced tomorrow.

A hold-up on the parcels post was stolen at the Southern Pacific station at an early hour Sunday morning. Two trains came in at nearly the same time, and while the driver of the mail wagon was keeping watch in the station, a thief climbed into his wagon and relieved it of one package. He made his escape and is unknown. The federal authorities have been notified.

The Shriners' Band of 120 pieces will give a concert here at the Bakersfield opera house October 28th, and a citizens committee has been appointed to make all arrangements for their entertainment and lodging while here.

LEMOORE WOMEN MEET

LEMOORE, Oct. 7.—The Women's Club held its first meeting of the year at the Alpha Club house, Saturday. The president, Mrs. Edward Byron, gave an interesting talk on what the club might accomplish this year in social and civic work. After vacation luncheon by the club members, tea was served by the president and vice president.

CONVICT TO BE WITNESS

VISALIA, Oct. 7.—Sheriff Collins is expected to return this evening from San Quentin, having secured with him D. A. Gifford, recently convicted of the larceny of a large number of acts of harness. He will be a witness in the trial of William Price, who is being held on a petit larceny charge, and who is said to be a member of Gifford's gang.

ELECTION CALL ISSUED

HANFORD, Oct. 7.—An election was called by the supervisors today for the Wilbur reclamation district to be held November 10. Three trustees will be chosen. The polls open at 10 and close at 4. S. Richardson, Jr., will give the count, and Lewis Grunauer and W. H. Wilbur judges.

CORCORAN TRAIN DERAILED

TULARE, Oct. 7.—Early this afternoon Santa Fe passenger No. 28, running between Visalia and Corcoran, was derailed near Russell Switch. Only slight damage was done. It took several hours to place the train on the track, traffic being held up all afternoon.

VISALIA TO ASK FOR LEAGUE CONVENTION

Delegates At Venice Will Try to Get Next Municipalities Meeting

VISALIA, Oct. 7.—A strong bid for the next meeting of the League of California Municipalities will be made by ex-Mayor Orr and City Engineer L. E. McCabe, who are in attendance at the convention which is now being held in Venice.

This city feels able to care for the large number of delegates that will attend. Besides, it is believed the next convention will come to the valley and Visalia will extend an invitation in the hope that it will be selected.

FAIR OPENS IN KINGS WITH FINE EXHIBITS

Stock Is Feature; Products Also Numerous; Bennett Band Gives Concert

HANFORD, Oct. 7.—King's county's twelfth annual fair opened officially today with a good attendance. It is the best exhibition from all viewpoints that the county has ever given. All of the pens and sheds on the grounds are filled with magnificent livestock from a dozen counties of the state and the competition is keen. Many splendid draft and standard bred horses occupy the show grounds. The pavilion is beautifully decorated and filled with a brilliant display of products of fruit, vegetables and mechanical devices.

The spaces about the sides are all taken and commercially the pavilion is an emporium of industry. In the upper floor, or balcony the ladies handwork and fancy work exhibits fill booth after booth, encircling the whole building.

The concessions are many and varied forming a wide ring in the open space between the race track and the automobile pavilion. There the fun opened tonight, the first night of the fair.

The poultry house contains nearly 800 splendid birds.

Judging of poultry began today under the direction of N. E. Luce, of Los Angeles.

Tomorrow Prof. Gordon True of the University of California, and Prof. Rube of the San Luis Obispo Polytechnic College, will judge the livestock.

Bennett's band of San Francisco is in attendance and gave an elaborate program at the opera house this evening.

Tomorrow the races begin with a fine speed program, and a large number of entries.

ARRANGE FOR BEET CULTURE IN TULARE

Sugar Factory Will Change Policy, and Contract for Acreage in Any Amount From 2 to 100 Acres

TULARE, Oct. 7.—J. L. Chaddock, E. A. Nickerson and A. W. Kook, of the San Joaquin Beet Sugar Co., of Visalia, were in Tulare today with E. E. Overstreet, of the Tugan ranch. The gentlemen have been going over the country around this city looking up the prospect of the beet crop for another year and seem pretty well satisfied with the encouragement they have received. Mr. Nickerson states that the company will pursue a different policy in growing beets for their factory this coming season than the one followed in the season when they leased large tracts of land and let out the growing on contract. They were only fairly successful in this method, on account of the dry year. This year they will let out contracts to farmers for anything from two-acre to 100-acre tracts, but on a less extensive scale than last year.

A. Breitenbeche, superintendent of acreage for the company, will be here within a few days to close up contracts with farmers. It is said that a number of the beet growers already will take contracts for the coming season.

This season the company is to send out a competent agriculturalist to give advice to farmers on the planting of beet seed and the cultivation and handling of their crops. The farmers do not have to follow the instructions of this agriculturalist if they have their own way, but his services will be furnished free by the company if they wish to take advantage of it.

WOMAN LIBRARIAN RESIGNS HER POST

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Dora Duncan Fowler, for the past three years librarian at the public library, handed in her resignation yesterday and it was accepted by the board of trustees at a special meeting, to take effect November 1st. An effort to induce her to reconsider was unsuccessful.

During the past three years the patronage of the library has more than doubled. Interest in the work has grown constantly, with special features provided for the children, the students of the schools and the elders.

Applications for the vacancy will be considered by the trustees Friday.

BEGIN CONDEMNATION SUITS

VISALIA, Oct. 7.—Almost the entire day today was taken up in securing a jury in the three condemnation suits brought by the Pacific Light & Power corporation, against A. M. Free, C. L. Hanner and M. Ellen Hanner. These cases will be heard at once. The company is seeking an easement for its double transmission line which is now being constructed across the county.

FIND GOLD IN CRAW OF CHICKEN; OWNER WILL INVESTIGATE

LEMOORE, Oct. 7.—James Fitzpatrick, employed in the Southern Pacific depot here, recently purchased a chicken from a local merchant. On preparing the chicken for cooking, his wife was astonished to find some small shiny pellets in its craw. On examination, the pellets were found to be gold, and enough amounting to about three dollars was extracted from the craw and gizzard. The chicken came from a ranch near Lemoore where a search is being made to find it possible where the chicken picked them up, which may lead to a valuable discovery.

Matron Is Appointed For Juvenile Court To Look After Girls

HANFORD, Oct. 7.—The supervisors, following a conference with the probation officer, appointed Mrs. C. G. Goodrich, of the city of Hanford, as matron of the juvenile court, who will have charge of all delinquent girls brought before the court. The salary will be $25. She will fit up quarters in her home to care for those to be held pending the disposition of their cases. The court is thus availing itself of the provisions of a new statute.

IS FOUND GUILTY OF OBSTRUCTING HIGHWAY

Aged Visalia Recluse Counted Out On Unusual Charge; Second Offense

VISALIA, Oct. 7.—Ed Herriek, an aged recluse of the Tipton section, was found guilty by a jury in the Superior Court today of obstructing the highway, a first misdemeanor. Friday was set as the time for him to appear for sentence. For two years past Herriek has maintained a bamboo fence on the corner of his property, partially obstructing the road. Every time the obstruction was torn out it was replaced by him, until the authorities were forced to drastic action.

Herriek caused considerable amusement, acting as his own attorney by representing himself in court. He claimed that the supervisors were at fault. Twenty-three years ago the man served seventy-five days in jail for a like offense.

DEFEAT CLEAN-UP SCHEME OF WOMEN

Mayor of Porterville Caste Deciding Vote Against Ordinance; Building Permits Granted Residents

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 7.—Plans for the proposed civic house-cleaning in Porterville came to naught at the meeting of the city council last evening when the proposed ordinance to compel proper care of city property was defeated by the vote of Mayor Terrault. When the ordinance was read for the second time Trustees McCabe and Higgins voted no. Trustees Konda and Halford voted yes, and the mayor added his vote, casting the deciding vote against the ordinance. After the law was defeated the mayor stated that he had voted against it under a misapprehension as to its provisions, and that he would call the matter up again for further consideration.

Three building permits were granted by the council one for a substantial addition to the Randolph packing house, one for the construction of the new Rodgers buildings recently destroyed by fire, and one for the construction of the new I. O. O. F. temple on Main.

START PLANS FOR ORANGE SHIPMENTS

Railroad Is Putting In Sidetracks At Porterville; Distributing Point

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 7.—Work started this morning on the construction of an additional half mile of freight tracks for the Southern Pacific in this station to be used as a storage for refrigerator cars with which to handle the orange crop of the coming fall. It. Giddings, district representative of the P. E. Lines, is here arranging for the opening of the season, and he states that distribution of cars will be made in addition to the tracks within the city limits the Southern Pacific is also adding a half mile of new equipment for the Zante houses, just north of Porterville.

RANCHERS WILL SAVE PORTION OF PROPERTY

Iden Lands Have Reverted to Gianinni, Original Owner; Make Terms

TULARE, Oct. 7.—It is now definitely known that the ranchers who bought land of W. A. Iden, the former minister, now facing charges of land frauds, will not lose all their investments. Following the filing of foreclosure proceedings yesterday in the Superior court at Visalia, by F. Gianinni, against the Elba Land Company of which W. A. Iden was the head, the purchasers of land from Iden are now facing the proposition of making direct settlement with Gianinni. G. W. Zantman, attorney for the land company, gave out the following statement this morning:

"All the company desires is to get its money from the land. It will do the right thing by the Tulare men holding land under the sub-contract issued by Iden. After the elimination of Iden and his equity in the lands it will be only a matter of a short time until some definite arrangements will be arrived at."

There is no doubt but that the men holding land on the contracts issued by Iden will lose, and some of them quite heavily, considering the fact that Iden and his equity in the lands it will be only a matter of a short time until some definite arrangements will be arrived at."

Herriek caused considerable amusement, acting as his own attorney by representing himself in court. He claimed that the supervisors were at fault. Twenty-three years ago the man served seventy-five days in jail for a like offense.

Three building permits were granted by the council one for a substantial addition to the Randolph packing house, one for the construction of the new Rodgers buildings recently destroyed by fire, and one for the construction of the new I. O. O. F. temple on Main.

After the law was defeated the mayor stated that he had voted against it under a misapprehension as to its provisions, and that he would call the matter up again for further consideration.

TRY OUT ADDITION TO BAKERSFIELD POWER PLANT

Largest Steam Plant In Interior of State; 22,500

H. P. Capacity

Last Tunnel for Tule River Plant Is Through;
Work On No. 2

The 7,000 kilowatt unit that has just been added to the steam power plant of the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation at Bakersfield, was given its first tryout last night. The plant will be put into commercial operation within a very few days and will do a great deal toward relieving the demand for power that has been made upon this company.

The completion of this unit makes the Bakersfield plant the largest steam power plant in the interior of California. Plants in Los Angeles and on the bay only exceed it in size and capacity. This plant now has a capacity of 14,000 kilowatts or about 18,500 horsepower.

"We saw the sun set through tunnel No. 26 on October 3," wrote D. H. Wilson, engineer in charge of the construction work on the Tule river plant, to General Manager A. G. Wilson. This was the last tunnel for the Tule river plant. Construction work has been delayed on the pipe line because of the loss of two pieces of pipe en route from the East.

Although there is only a small crew of work on the No. 2 power house, now being built at North Fork, all the tunnels, both the longest and a portion of the No. 1 tunnel are completed. The ditch work is all done and steel for the ditch is now in the power company yards at Friant.

The completion of the east side line of the San Joaquin Light and Power Company, a few days ago, makes the distribution of power a much easier problem than ever before. The line extends from the Fresno Copper Mine down along the east side foothills to Strathmore, and then from Strathmore to Fresno has just been completed and put in operation. This line is known as the "East 60" line. It is possible to send power down this line in the west side line should break down, and vice versa.

The line crew has completed ten miles of the power line to the Tule river plant and will have the line completed for the entire distance by the end of the month.

IS READING PUBLIC OF FRESNO SMALLER BUT MORE STUDIOUS?

Is Fresno's reading public becoming smaller but more studious? In the report of the library, made at the meeting of the Fresno public library board last evening, it was shown that the month of September past recorded but 7,322 visitors, while that of September 1912 recorded 8,252 patrons. Six of the two months, last September shows a gain in circulation of books of 654.

The reason for this discrepancy is not apparent unless it may be attributed to a very limited and unusually warm month which kept many patrons away from the library but which afforded more time for indoor reading on the part of the studious public.

New works of fiction were ordered by the board last evening, the order amounting to nearly six hundred dollars. The trustees present were William Glass, John Sed, Ray Baker and Wick W. Parsons.

modification or suspension of two food orders relating to the labeling of wine, Secretary of Agriculture

Johnson has announced that he will hold a public hearing in Washington on November 5. All wine makers, grape modification or suspension. In writing.

Officials of the Department of Agriculture have indicated that they make the labeling of wine a stringent one in order to protect the public from the sale of spurious

wine. In the opinion of the board no beverage can be made from pomace or grapes which is entitled to be labeled "wine" without further characterization. The addition of

COUNTY PUBLICITY CONFERENCE IS CALLED

Organizations To Make Effort to Adjust Differences About Fund

Chamber of Commerce Asks Supervisors to Allow Sunset Contract

A joint conference between representatives of the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce, the supervisors and the newly organized Fresno County Development Board, will be held next Friday afternoon for the purpose of trying to adjust differences regarding the distribution of county advertising money.

The conference was arranged yesterday afternoon when the directors of the Chamber of Commerce appeared before the board and asked that it allow the expenditure of $1,000 for Sunset magazine advertising.

The matter was discussed to some length yesterday and at that time it was made manifest that the supervisors do not look with much favor on the Fresno County Development Board, composed of outside chambers of commerce and business men who want a voice in the distribution of the county advertising money.

Three of the members do not favor making any change at all in the present system. Supervisor Collins favors a change but wants the board of supervisors to take up the county's publicity work. Supervisor Martin, while conceding that the work has been well done by the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce thinks the criticism unfortunate and that the outside bodies should be placed to the extent of being given a vote but not going so far as to give a division of the funds to be disbursed by various organizations.

The directors of the Fresno Chamber of Commerce stated that they had previously sent an appeal to the development board meeting, not because it wished to ignore it, but because the unanimous opinion was that the supervisors constitute the only body to be centered with on the subject of the advertising fund.

The board was about to grant the request for the appropriation for the Sunset contract when Howard Russell of Sanger, representing the development board, asked first for a joint conference, holding out the hope that an amicable settlement might be reached. The directors of the Fresno Chamber of Commerce were willing to accede to this proposition and a date was fixed.

The principal complaint of the outside bodies is that their districts have not been given the publicity which they think is their due. This applies principally in booklets. To this, reply was made that if there has been any neglect it is due entirely to the disqualification of the outside bodies to co-operate or to give any information when publicity agents came to them for assistance in the general work.

The opening attraction of the Commonwealth Club, the lecture by Robert Whitaker, will be held at the Unitarian church tomorrow evening. Each member of the club has been supplied with invitations and may invite three friends.

Rev. Whitaker, who is a pastor of Los Gatos, will probably speak along socialistic lines. He has gained much attention at the present time as author of a series of articles published in the San Francisco "Bulletin" entitled "Why Callst Thou Me Good?"

Other lectures are being arranged for by the Commonwealth Club but have not yet been announced. On the success of the affair tomorrow evening depends the securing of other well known speakers.

Will hold annual church election

First Christian Church to Hear Reports for Year
This Evening

Every family pleading affiliation with the First Christian church is expected to be represented at the annual meeting and election which will be held this evening. The official board meeting will take place at 7:15 and the general meeting at 8 o'clock in the church parlors.

There are six elders, five trustees, ten deacons, and six deaconesses to be elected tonight. The annual reports for the fiscal year will be heard at the time from all the departments of the church. It is known that the reports to be read will show a year of remarkable progress.

Though the entire membership of the church, nearly a thousand, is not expected to be present, it is hoped that the roll call may reveal a representative from every family associated with the Christian church activities.

BOZEMAN IN COURT
IN DIVORCE CASE

Suit was brought yesterday by Mrs. Lucy M. Bozeman, nee Adams, for divorce from Preston O. Bozeman. The divorce is sought on the general grounds of cruelty and neglect to provide. The Bozemans live near Laton and after the filing of the complaint Attorney J. C. Russell of Hanford secured an order prohibiting Bozeman from interfering with the wife's custody of the four children, three boys, aged 11, 9 and 7 years, and a girl, aged 5 years. According to the complaint the Bozemans have been following a glib camp life.
